NON-FICTION

CURIOSITY

We believe children are full of questions and natural explorers!

Mes p'tits Docs > UNDERSTANDING THE WORLD

Mes P'tits Docs is a non-fiction series, with a wide range of themes that explains the world to young children. It is ideal for sparking curiosity or reinforcing knowledge! Topics are those that fascinate children: firefighters, animals, transport. In each episode the narrator engages kids to take part in a sound quiz to review some of the exciting facts learnt throughout the episode.

Animal mystère > ANIMAL FACTS

Each episode is a story guessing game where a professional reporter “meets” with a different animal. She questions the animal about its habitat, its way of living and eating... As the “interview” evolves, the child collects facts about this “mysterious” animal. Each episode concludes with a story which highlights an amazing talent of the featured animal. A playful way to learn about different animal species.

Wapiti - La nature se rebelle > NATURE AND ANIMAL PROTECTION

How can we change our behavior towards nature? This series does it by giving a voice to endangered animals. In each episode, the lead character is an animal. Enough is enough! Animals point out situations where human behavior has harmed their species (bees, elephants, bats, orangutans...). This series uses humor to engage critical thinking rather than being judgmental. Positive human behavior is also highlighted.

Curieux de sciences > SCIENTIFIC INVESTIGATION

A successful coproduction between Bayard and the French Museum of Natural History. The starting point of each episode is always a real kid's question. Kids interact with the museum's experts to learn about the topic and how experts over time have researched and explored these fascinating topics: Was there life before the dinosaurs? How much does planet earth weigh? Why don't we all have the same skin color?

FICTION & CHARACTER STORIES

WE LOVE TO CREATE FUN
and enriching storytelling experiences

Nino Dino > FICTION AND SOCIAL EMOTIONAL LEARNING

Nino is a 3-year-old T-Rex who experiences situations and emotions relating to his age which he has to overcome. Nino's frustrations can be very vocal and rock'n roll guitar effects illustrate his mood. At the end of each story, Nino reflects upon his emotions and learns to name them. The episode concludes with Nino himself asking the listener "how are you feeling today?" and a quick quiz highlighting the learning of the episodes.

SERIALIZED FICTION

Addictive and thought-provoking adventures

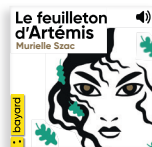

Le feuilleton de Tsippora

After her 4 series centered around key Greek mythology characters, Artemis, Hermes, Ulysses and Theseus, Murielle Szac takes on a new challenge: exploring the voice of a woman from the Bible. Tsippora was often discriminated because of the color of her skin. Tsippora leaves her tribe and joins forces with Moses to free her people from slavery. Written in the form of 100 serialized short episodes, it is a thought-provoking audiobook. Ideal for a family and school listening.
