BETTY BOUM

By Capucine Lewalle and Chiara Baglioni

Betty Boum is a 6-year-old girl who rarely believes what grown-ups say. She always replies, “No way!” and then imagines her own version. Something more fun, more crazy, more wacky... something kids would love!

THE AUTHOR

Capucine Lewalle is a screenwriter. She has written scripts for several TV shows, such as Scènes de ménage (M6) or Raving Rabbids. She is also the author of Petit Pousin nous les brise, which is currently being adapted into an animated series, and a number of books for little ones, including the Paillette et Licorne series, published by Casterman.

THE ILLUSTRATOR

Chiara Baglioni was born in Arezzo (Italy) and currently lives in Milan. After a career in film and theatre costume design, she became an independent children's book illustrator. Her illustrations have been exhibited in Italy, Germany, France and are currently on show in Toronto, Canada. Betty Boum is her first comic book.

LA FÉE DES GRAINS DE POUSSIÈRE

By Esmé Planchon and Jeanne Balas

The dust fairy collects stories about all the tiny little things in the world that nobody notices. With big glasses and a twinkle in her eye, she makes up exciting lives for all these miniature things. She calls the blades of grass by their names, she collects pieces of air and she knows your insect zodiac sign. She gets excited about a speck of dust's epic journey or a pebble's destiny...

THE AUTHOR

Esmé Planchon is an actress, performer, storyteller and children's book author. She created the Dust Fairy in 2018 for a show in the "Enfances" and "On Air" exhibitions at the Palais de Tokyo (Paris, France). The show was then performed at several festivals, before becoming a comic book.

THE ILLUSTRATOR

Jeanne Balas graduated from Art School in Angoulême with a master's degree in comics. In 2014, she published a short story in the first issue of Franky (et Nicole), a magazine published by Requins Marteaux. She also contributed to a digital comic book project, Le Secret des Cailloux qui brillent, from 2015 to 2018.

KEY FEATURES

Je suis une fée.

J'ai des pouvoirs magiques.

Mais le problème, c'est que je ne suis pas...

la fée des océans

ni la fée des forêts

ni la fée des métropoles

JE SUIS LA FÉE DES GRAINS DE POUSSIÈRE

Nem, mais c'est pas mal aussi, promis!

Ma magie concerne certaines choses très précises.

Et tout ce qui est minuscule-microscopique - insignifiant-pas important.

Je ne peux pas vraiment respirer sous l'eau ni exaucer tous tes vœux les plus chers.

Mais je peux déplacer ce grain de poussière

d'un millimètre vers la gauche.

Je peux t'offrir
la bonheur,

mais pendant un
millième de millième de seconde.

Je peux te donner la chose la plus belle du monde,

mais elle mesurera
un millième de millième de millimètre.

Mes pouvoirs magiques sont très magiques mais microscopiques.

et même,
une échelle
pour océanico.

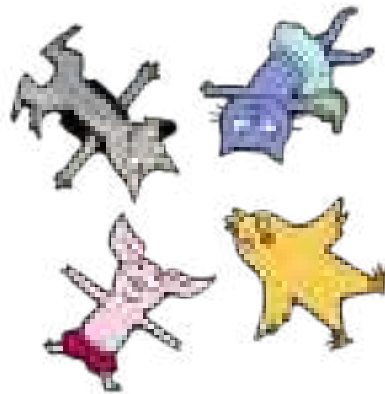

Des pouvoirs à la
plus petite échelle,

une échelle
pour fourmis

LES PETITS PHILOSOPHES

By Sophie Furlaud and Dorothée de Monfreid

Raoul the skeptical wolf, Mina the pragmatic cat, Chonchon the naive piglet, and Plume the imaginative bird are friends whose minds are always buzzing with questions. Les Petits Philosophes accompany the readers in their understanding of the world: emotions, social relations, life's values and counter-values... A series to help children develop their own thinking process!

THE AUTHOR

Sophie Furlaud is a journalist at Pomme d'Api magazine. She's been writing the Les Petits Philosophes column for over 10 years.

THE ILLUSTRATOR

Dorothée de Monfreid is a French author and illustrator. She started out as a graphic designer before working on children's books. She's best known for illustrating I really want to eat a child from L'école des loisirs. In addition to her work on children's books, she also creates comics.

LES SŒURS MÊME PAS PEUR

By Clément C. Fabre

Each adventure of Célestine and Suzanne, beyond confronting them with new fears, subtly raises awareness of childhood themes. This first volume, The Witch Under the Bed, is centered around empathy. When the two sisters discover that the witch also has fears, they manage to overcome their differences and realize they can very well become friends.

THE AUTHOR- ILLUSTRATOR

After 10 years in the film industry, Clément C. Fabre switched career as an illustrator and screenwriter in the mid-2000s. A versatile author, he is praised for his watercolor work in Le Mystère des papas from Gallimard and his autobiographical story Carole from Dargaud. He has also collaborated on several projects, including BFF from Delcourt, which was nominated for an Eisner Award in 2021..

CHIHUAHUA

By Pascal Jousselin, Nob, Obion and Lewis Trondheim

It's Paul's first day at the Chihuahua school! He soon makes two friends, Violette, a little girl, and Gilbert, who looks like a monster... because he is one! In fact, Paul realizes that he's the only human in this strange school and that he's surrounded by a bunch of monsters... But best keep that a secret because some of his classmates love gobbling up kids! The 4 author-illustrators take it in turns to draw each book. So, the characters and backgrounds are similar yet different!

THE AUTHORS-ILLUSTRATORS

Nob created his first fanzine in high school and won at 16 the First Comic Book Award at Grenoble HeroFestival, as well as a school award at Angoulême Comics Festival. Since 2003, he's been working with Bayard Presse.

Lewis Trondheim likes working for children and adults alike, on all possible medias and with as many friends as possible. After 35 years of work, he still thinks his job is the best in the World.

Jousselin. As a kid, he was already making his own comic book series. As an adult, he's still working on comic books and he's very happy about it.

Obion never liked school. From his parents, he inherited a dubious taste for puns, as well as a gift for pranking.

Colette

1940. À cause de la guerre qui s'est déclarée contre l'Allemagne, Ernest et Colette vivent désormais en Normandie, chez leurs grands-parents, Papilou et Mamili. Depuis que les combats ont vraiment commencé, la vie est devenue difficile...

MUGUETTE !

Mince, où elle est...

Ah Ernest ! C'est toi ?

Pourquoi tu cries comme ça ?

Tout le monde quitte le village. Jean et sa mère sont déjà partis. Fernand aussi.

Tu ne peux pas rester ! Viens avec nous !

T'inquiète pas. Avec mon père, on va se cacher dans les bois. Et les Boches*, ils nous trouveront jamais !

Mais enfin ! C'est dangereux !

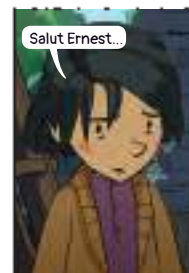

Allez, fiche le camp maintenant...

On est les Robinsons ! On se retrouvera !

Bon ben... Au revoir Mugnette et... Fais attention à toi !

Salut Ernest...

* Les Boches :

CHEZ PAPILOU ET MAMILI

N'insiste pas, René. Je reste !

Jeanne, je serais quand même plus tranquille si tu venais avec nous.

Pas question d'abandonner ma ferme.

Je vous confie Picotin. Il vous sera utile pour transporter tout ça...

Ne prends que le nécessaire, hein !

Mais oui !

Soyez prudents sur la route mes amis. Je penserai bien à vous.

Sois prudente aussi ma Jeanne.

Au revoir, Picotin...

Ça y est, les enfants, vous êtes prêts ?

Oui, Mamili !

Oh merci ! Je la garderai toute ma vie !

MORTELLE ADÈLE

By Mr Tan, Miss Prickly (Vol. 1 to 7) and Diane Le Feyer (from Vol. 8 onward)

Mortelle Adèle is an aspirational, empowering heroine, in step with her time.

Whether it's driving her parents mad, conducting lots of weird experiments or breaking Geoffroy's heart, Adèle's never short on ideas to wreak havoc everywhere she goes...

A dollop of black humor and a dash of tenderness, fasten your seatbelt, you're in for quite a ride!

THE AUTHOR

Antoine Dole, aka Mr Tan, is a comic book writer and prolific author. He has created comic strips for books and children's magazines. Antoine Dole has also written a number of widely acclaimed and award-winning manga books and novels for teenagers and young adults. Mr Tan created this outspoken character when he was just 14 years old. Through her light-hearted and mischievous adventures, he explores childhood fantasies, norms and differences. Mr Tan didn't only create the storylines... He shaped Adèle's personality and was the very first person to sketch her in his notebooks.

THE ILLUSTRATORS

Diane Le Feyer joined the Mortelle Adèle adventure in 2014, becoming the series illustrator from volume 8 onwards. After working at Cartoon Saloon, in video games and cartoons, she began to illustrate children's books in France and abroad. She has worked with many big publishers such as Hallmark, Harper Collins, Mattel, Bayard Éditions, Scholastic, Igloo Books, Five Mile, etc.

Miss Prickly works with editors such as Bayard, Delcourt, or Dupuis. She has created and illustrated several comic books, including the "À cheval" and "Animal Jack" series. She is the first illustrator of Mortelle Adèle. Based on Mr Tan's original sketches of the main character, she created the graphic universe of the series. Miss Prickly designed and drew the character of Mortelle Adèle and the first seven volumes of the series.

LES ENFANTS DE L'ARBRE

By Thierry Gaudin & Romain Ronzeau

This epic series blends futuristic adventure and ecological issues with intergenerational relationships.

In a dystopian future where the Earth has been ravaged by climatic disasters, Alex and Leïla have become grandparents. Sol, their grandson, is far different from the hero Alex was at his age... Rather frail, he lives in the shadow of his illustrious grandparents within the Tree Federation, an ecological society created by them. But one day, Sol discovers a very special kind of connection with the trees that surround him. Through them, he comes to the aid of three teenagers who have fled the City, the Federation's dark counterpart.

As he tries to integrate these three individuals, Sol gradually discovers himself, particularly through contact with Anima, a fierce, enigmatic young girl who seems to be hiding a dark secret.

TIA ET LE MONDE ENFOUI

by Thomas Le Petit-Corps and Gabriele Bagnoli

In a village buried deep underground, Tia and the mole people enjoy a peaceful life surrounded by nature and makeshift homes. But when a flyer reveals plans for a «Giant Underground Parking Lot», their way of life is threatened. With the adults unwilling to act, Tia bravely ventures to the surface to stop the project. Along the way, she faces a hostile new environment and judgment for her appearance, but finds support in trusted allies, including Elie Loiseau, the son of the project's architect.

THE AUTHOR

Thomas Le Petit-Corps is an author and multi-platform writer (podcasts, publishing, animation...), who writes for both young and older audiences. Ecological fables, audio escape games, and journeys of self-discovery are at the heart of his stories.

THE ILLUSTRATOR

Gabriele Bagnoli is an Italian cartoonist and illustrator. He has collaborated with numerous publishing houses, such as Dark Horse Comics in the USA, and with Auzou, Dupuis, and Glénat in France. Tia et le monde enfoui is his first comic with Bayard Jeunesse.

LES GRANDS TÉMOINS

By Various Authors

In very different places and contexts, men and women have chosen to stand up and help the poor and needy.

From different religions, nationalities and cultures, these personalities have left their mark around them, and have borne witness to fundamental values: charity, equal rights, peace. This book presents comic strips recounting the lives of 14 great witnesses. Catholic and Protestant, but also Hindu, Muslim or agnostic, they have committed themselves to helping their neighbours.

KEY FEATURES

- Sales: 49,000 copies sold
- Editorial: To combine testimony, commitment and the comic book format: a modern Communion gift to pass on beautiful values.
- Editorial: Slovenian, Spanish (Mexico)

IMAGES DOC

By Various Authors

A comprehensive set of books, ideal for history buffs and comic book enthusiasts alike. A new way of approaching history within the Image docs series: after encyclopaedias and historical novels, comic strips. All children will now have access to history in the literary genre that suits them best.

A lively and illustrated approach to history through comics. A chronology, non-fiction pages, and portraits complete the book. The comics, designed to be accessible to children from 8 years old, faithfully reproduce the elements of the period they describe. The illustrations are realistic, with rigorous documentary work.

The episodes they bring to life have a dual purpose: to be dynamic and pleasant to read while being representative of the subject they deal with

KEY FEATURES

- Sales: 148,151 copies sold
- Magazine: Images Doc (830,000 readers each month). 25 years of expertise in images and documentaries.
- Editorial: Comic Book: An original and educative way to introduce History to children.
