DARWIN ET MIMOLETTE | SERIES

By Clothilde Delacroix

THEMES: DAILY LIFE / HUMOR / FRIENDSHIP
KEYWORDS: HOLIDAYS / DIFFERENCE / DIARY

A new series of early reader novels featuring a delightful duo: a mischievous mouse and a lazy cat.

Mimolette is a studious and very self-assured mouse. Now that the holidays have started, she is determined to convince Darwin, her best friend, to join her on an expedition: the little mouse wants to go camping! But Darwin is a lazy cat who has no desire for adventure; he just wants to sunbathe all summer! Mimolette is stubborn and pushes her friend to try the experience... who knows, maybe he'll like it? The two friends share their thoughts and dreams through their funny diaries.

THE AUTHOR AND ILLUSTRATOR:

Clothilde Delacroix is a children's author and illustrator who has been working in the press and publishing for over twenty years. She makes children dream and laugh with universes full of humor, tenderness and color.

AGATA MÈNE L'ENQUÊTE | SERIES

By Paul Martin & Camille Roy

THEMES: MYSTERY & DETECTIVE / HUMOR
KEYWORDS: INVESTIGATION

The adventures of Agata in Matouville are now available in novel format: each volume features an illustrated investigation set in a fictional universe inspired by Mes premières énigmes à tous les étages.

Business isn't going great for Agata, the youngest detective in Matouville. Luckily for her, a crime-free city doesn't exist! Agata soon finds herself chasing a new thief who seems to operate... only on the rooftops.

Accessible and fun investigations for early readers, a segment that has proven its worth in bookstores with 100,000 copies sold since 2020.

THE AUTHOR:

Paul Martin was a longtime writer for Astrapi and now makes a living from his pen. He writes children's novels (Les enquêtes archi-secrètes de Brumm et Irving), comic book scripts (Kiki et Aliène, Docteur Enigmus), and puzzles (Énigmes à tous les étages with Bayard)... He lives in Lille with a very lazy cat! He won the 2019 Grand Prix de Le Journal de Mickey readers for his novel Violette Hurlevent et le jardin sauvage (Sarbacane)

THE ILLUSTRATOR:

Camille Roy illustrates numerous children's books and is the creator of the characters in the series Le manoir Croquignole and Agata Crispy détective. Creating characters and inventing worlds is what excites her most about her work. She loves inventing monsters, drawing animals, and creating scenes rich in detail.

LE MOT INTERDIT

By Nicolas de Hirsching & Claire de Gastold

THEME: FAMILY LIFE / MISCHIEF
KEYWORDS: FORBIDDEN / MANIPULATION / GIFT

Bestseller and classic J'aime lire, recommended by the French National Education, a story that blends humor and suspense, keeping young readers on the edge of their seats until the very end.

His parents have forbidden him from making phone calls in their absence, but Thierry is neither very well-behaved nor very obedient. While playing a prank on the phone, he stumbles upon a mysterious company that gives away free gifts—every single day! In exchange, Thierry must not say any words ending in “-OR”. But one day, he forgets the rule... and that's when the trouble begins.

221,000 copies sold in the J'aime lire collection.

A plot woven with magic and suspense that keeps the reader on the edge of their seat.

THE AUTHOR:

Nicolas De Hirsching is a school teacher who writes children's stories. His students are often his first audience. His novel “Le mot interdit” is on the list of books recommended by the French Ministry of Education.

THE ILLUSTRATOR:

Claire De Gastold was born in Paris in 1978. From an early age, she dreamed of creating comics and went to Brussels to study at the Institut Saint-Luc. The following year, she joined the École Nationale supérieure des Arts Décoratifs in Paris. Since then, Claire has illustrated numerous books and works in children's publishing, the press, and visual communication.

LA VILLA D'EN FACE

By Pierre Boileau, Thomas Narcejac & Anne Simon

THEME: INVESTIGATION / ADVENTURE / IMAGINATION
KEYWORDS: ESPIONNAGE / MYSTERY

A classic from the Bayard catalog, written by a major name in detective literature, widely recommended in French schools.

“What to do when you have bronchitis?” wonders Philippe in his room. Watching the villa across the street with Dad's binoculars is fun. But this game can become dangerous if the neighbors are hiding a gangster. Philippe and his sister Claudette are a little too eager to uncover the mystery of the house across the street. And the gangster does not like nosy people at all.

330,000 copies sold in the “J'aime lire” collection.

An ideal first thriller, with unrelenting suspense, written by the duo Boileau and Narcejac, making it a model of the genre.

THE AUTHORS:

Pierre Boileau (1906-1989) teamed up with Thomas Narcejac in 1948 to write around fifty detective novels that achieved great success, many of which were adapted for the screen. They received numerous awards, including the Louis Delluc Prize, the Critics' Prize, and the Black Humor Prize.

Thomas Narcejac (1908-1998) teamed up with Pierre Boileau in 1948, with whom he would go on to write around fifty detective novels.

THE ILLUSTRATOR:

Anne Simon studied at the Beaux-Arts in Angoulême and the École des Arts Décoratifs in Paris. She contributed to the creation of Misma publishing and the magazine Dopotutto. Today, she works for children's press and publishing. She illustrates numerous children's books, and her drawings appear in various women's and youth magazines (Okapi, Astrapi, Je bouquine). She is also active in advertising illustration.

LE JOURNAL DES BFF

By Ségolène Valente

THEME: FRIENDSHIP / DAILY LIFE / DIARY
KEYWORDS: SECRET / PERSONAL STORIES

The birth of a friendship through a shared notebook: the illustrated daily life of the whimsical Romy and the sensitive Anna-Bella.

Anna-Bella and Romy are two ten-year-old girls who couldn't be more different: one is a perfectionist, the other is clumsy. Nothing seemed to predestine them to become friends. Yet, thanks to a notebook left behind on the classroom table, the two girls will get to know each other by exchanging little notes—turning it into their shared diary.

Two lovable heroines that young girls will easily identify with: Romy, energetic, clumsy, and unable to focus, and Anna-Bella, charismatic, fragile, and perfectionist.

A shared diary, brought to life and illustrated, where personal stories, little notes, drawings, quizzes, and top 3 lists blend together to capture the daily life of two 10-year-old girls, balancing lighthearted moments with deeper themes (separation, failure, etc.).

THE AUTHOR:

Ségolène Valente was born in Paris in 1973, where she still lives. After studying modern literature, she taught French for three years. Today, she is dedicated to writing. She has published several youth series with Rageot, including Vive la 6e and Vive la 5e. She also enjoys meeting her readers in libraries and schools.

JOURNAL D'UNE DÉBROUILLARDE

By Nathalie Somers & Océane Meklemberg

THEME: SCHOOL / DAILY LIFE / HUMOR
KEYWORDS: TRUST / BAD GRADES / DIARY

It's not easy being a misunderstood genius. I'm hilarious, I can devour 10 cakes in under a minute, and I can fix any leak with a single turn of a wrench. As for one or two zeros in math, that's not important, right?

Victoire is worse than terrible at math. She has tried everything, but nothing works—she's completely hopeless, much to her parents' despair. Armed with a wrench, she can work wonders, but no one cares about that—being a plumber isn't a real job.

When her parents start talking about boarding school, Victoire panics. What? Boarding school? Far from her best friend Yacer, Nana's delicious makrouts, and Scheherazade, her adorable sand rat? And all because of three measly zeros?

The only way to escape it: get a passing grade in math before the end of the year...

A highly graphic novel in the form of a diary, brought to life by the irresistible style of Océane Meklemberg, in the vein of Journal d'un dégonflé (3.5 million copies sold).

Universal themes tackled with humor: finding one's path, asserting oneself against parental expectations, and proving one's worth in the face of school pressures.

THE AUTHOR:

Nathalie Somers was first an engineer and then a teacher, before dedicating herself entirely to writing, much to the delight of her young readers. At Bayard Éditions Jeunesse, she is the author of the hilarious novels Nulle en maths and Nul en sport, as well as the adventure series La boutique extraordinaire de Nicodème. She also publishes with Fleurus, Didier Jeunesse, and Talents Hauts. Her fantasy series Roslend won the Grand Prix de l'Imaginaire in 2019.

THE ILLUSTRATOR:

Océane Meklemberg is a graduate of the École Supérieure d'Art et de Design in Amiens. She brings her lively and colorful style to numerous publishing houses and press outlets for both children and adults. Her work can be seen across various fields: in the press, publishing, and communication (Bayard, Eyrolles, Hachette, Laboratoire Boiron, Le Chêne, Milan, Père-Castor-Flammarion, La joie de Lire, etc.).

LES TRIPLÉS DU MAJESTIA | SERIES

By Anaïs Sautier & Lucie Durbiano

THEME: ACTION & ADVENTURE / INVESTIGATIONS
KEYWORDS: SIBLINGS / HOLIDAYS / SHIVERS

This new series follows the whirlwind investigations of a trio of triplets solving mysteries in hotels around the world!

Cookie, Elvis, and Vanille are kids like any others. Well, almost. Along with their butler father, the triplets move from place to place, living in hotels—but not just any hotels. They stay in the prestigious establishments of Majestia, the world-famous luxury hotel chain. In just a few days, the grand opening of the most magnificent of them all, L'Hôtel du Levant, will take place on a paradise island. Pop star Riyonca and the world-renowned psychic, the Black Mage, will be in attendance. But mysterious incidents are disrupting the meticulously planned event...

THE AUTHOR:

Anaïs Sautier has worked at Emmaüs for several years, specifically tasked with helping migrants. She dedicates her free time to cinema, reading novels, and of course, writing. Sometimes, it's when she attends dance performances or strolls through Paris, her eye caught by architectural details, that entire chapters of her novels seem to write themselves, almost without her noticing.

THE ILLUSTRATOR:

Illustrator and comic book creator, Lucie Durbiano has notably published Quatre sœurs with Bayard, and Le rouge vous va si bien and Autres histoires with Gallimard, as well as Trésor (Official Selection of the 2009 Angoulême Festival). She also publishes Lulu Grenadine with Laurence Gillot, with Nathan editions.

LES PODCASTS DE LA LOSE

By Guillaume Nail

THEME: FRIENDSHIP / DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY
KEYWORDS: SOCIAL MEDIA / PERSONALITIES / BULLYING

Not easy being a loser, especially in middle school. This book helps middle schoolers learn to embrace themselves and love who they are!

For this project, Mindy, the top student, is stuck with Farika, who's so quiet no one has ever heard her speak, and Roger, who still drags his stuffed animal to class. Not exactly the dream team. Mindy is a know-it-all, and Roger and Farika aren't thrilled to be paired with her. But they're about to surprise everyone.

Behind their quiet exteriors, each one has a strong personality. Little by little, the trio starts to bond. Their first podcast? A total disaster, with a burned kitchen and lost work. Then, Mindy accidentally causes another student to be bullied.

To make things right, they start the "Losers' Podcast," sharing their biggest embarrassments and secret passions. Through their mistakes, they learn to embrace what makes them unique, fight bullying in their school, and become the darlings of their classmates.

THE AUTHOR:

After working as a journalist, translator, and even taking on a few acting roles, Guillaume Nail is now a screenwriter and author. He is known for his numerous works for young readers, published by publishers such as Glénat and Le Rouergue. A passionate advocate for issues of equality and diversity, he is committed to better recognition of children's authors, particularly through his leadership in the Charter of Authors and Illustrators for Youth, which he chaired in 2019 and 2020.

WESH, LA FÉE!

By Rachel Corenblit & Joëlle Dreidemy

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY / HUMOR
KEYWORDS: HYPERACTIVITY / MAGIC / DYSLEXIA / BULLYING

The funny and sensitive meeting between a boy facing difficulties (dyslexia, victim of bullying) and a hyperactive fairy, who will help each other overcome their fears.

At 11 years old, Charlie dreams of escaping his daily life—struggling at school, dealing with his depressed father, and avoiding a menacing rat near his building’s garbage bins. But everything changes when he meets Wesh, a hyperactive fairy who’s been expelled from the Fairy Training Institute. Dyslexic and clumsy, Charlie unexpectedly finds a kindred spirit in her. Together, they will learn to overcome their doubts and prove they are far more capable than they believe. With humor, magic, and friendship, Wesh, the Fairy is a lively and heartfelt story that celebrates differences and perseverance.

THE AUTHOR:

Rachel Corenblit studied philosophy before turning to teaching and writing. Her first children’s book was published in 2007 by Éditions du Rouergue. Since then, she has published numerous youth novels, including Shalom Salam maintenant and 146298.

A very touching relationship between an 11-year-old boy and a fairy, who discover a shared difficulty in conforming to the norm.

A contemporary and humorous novel that addresses social and cultural themes close to young people: learning difficulties (dyslexia, ADHD), bullying, self-confidence, communication issues within families, and solidarity...

THE ILLUSTRATOR:

Joëlle Dreidemy studied at the Faculty of Fine Arts in Strasbourg and the École Émile Cohl in Lyon. This illustrator has been working for about ten years in France as well as in England, the United States, Australia, and South Korea, where she has illustrated numerous picture books, novels, and magazines, and won awards for two of her albums.

SÉBASTIANE GRANDÉLICE ET LES MYSTÈRES DE LA GASTROMAGIE

By Thomas Vertbois

THEME: ACTION / ADVENTURE
KEYWORDS: COOKING / MAGIC / MANGA

This novel blends prose with manga panels and shows the adventure of a teenage girl in the spectacular world of gastronomagic!

Trained in her grandmother’s inn, Sébastiane dreams of joining one of the five great gastronomagic establishments in the Kingdom of Savoria. But after an unexpected incident, she is suddenly propelled into an apprenticeship at the Golden Tower—the most prestigious of them all. There, competition is fierce among gastronomages, pâtimages, and mirmitons.

The young girl must quickly learn the rules of this fascinating yet ruthless world. But how can she find her place when everyone around her seems suspicious? And what secrets lie behind the glumens, those magical ingredients reserved for the wealthiest?

Between magic, mystery, and pastry-making, Sébastiane is in for more surprises than she ever imagined...

Colorful characters: a lovable and rebellious heroine trying to find her place in the ruthless world of high-end restaurants; a hot-tempered master chef; onion-shaped creature assistants; and a pet lizard...)

THE AUTHOR:

Thomas Verdois teaches English at an engineering and business school. He ran the comic blog “Excuse me teacher” for a long time (which had about 300,000 visits), where he shared his adventures as a teacher through comics. He also contributed to the collective website 30joursdebd.com as the publication manager for the strips. In 2014, he decided to stop making comics and started writing “Dragon Park,” his first novel.

PORTRAIT AU COUTEAU

By Malika Ferdjoukh

THEME: FANTASY / INVESTIGATION / LOVE
KEYWORDS: PAINTING / CRIME

A fantastic crime novel set in the world of art, masterfully crafted by Malika Ferdjoukh!

Winter 1910. Marie Legay poses for Odilon Voret, a dark and sinister painter. As she leaves his studio, she is stabbed to death five times. Spring 2010. Antonin Vertov, a young art student, meets a young model, Flavie, who has a scar in the shape of a bird on her chest... A few days later, they meet again at the Musée d'Orsay in front of a painting by Odilon Voret. The painting, entitled "The Torn Heart", shows a young woman being murdered... and the stab wounds are exactly the same shape as Flavie's scar. Antonin and Flavie decide to investigate. They get swept up in a whirlwind of strange and disturbing events, full of false leads and twists and turns... Including a paintbrush painting by itself, letters written in blood, and a usurpation that holds the key to the mystery!

THE AUTHOR:

Malika Ferdjoukh was born in 1957 in Algeria. She writes novels for children, such as the Quatre Sœurs series and Broadway Limited, published by L'École des loisirs. She also writes for film and TV.

SWING À BERLIN

By Christophe Lambert

THEME: HISTORY / SOCIETY / MUSIC
KEYWORDS: NAZISM / RESISTANCE / SECOND WOLRD WAR

This novel is gripping musical fiction set against the backdrop of resistance to Nazism and based on a true story.

Berlin, 1942. The war is dragging on, and the Germans are beginning to sense that victory is slipping away. Joseph Goebbels, the Minister of Propaganda, is searching for a way to lift the population's morale. And what could be more uplifting than jazz? But jazz, labeled as "degenerate music" or "Negro music," is banned by the regime. So the minister orders the creation of a "rhythmically accentuated dance music"—a version of jazz that would promote Aryan ideals. Veteran pianist Wilhelm Dussander has been retired ever since the Jewish members of his band were arrested. Though he believes politics should have no place in music, he has never liked the Nazis. Yet when Goebbels personally calls on him to assemble the group he envisions, Dussander has no choice but to comply...

THE AUTHOR:

Christophe Lambert is passionate about cinema, which he studied at university before starting his career on television. His love for films also inspired him to write detective novels, and he became an author in the late 1990s. Since then, he has published over sixty novels across various genres: thriller, adventure, science fiction, history, and more. At Bayard Éditions Jeunesse, he is notably the author of historical novels such as "Swing à Berlin," "Lever de rideau sur Terezin," "Soul Breakers," and "Calamity." He also novelizes the series "Yakari."

LE ROYAUME DÉTRAQUÉ

By Thomas Bérard

THEME: SCIENCE-FICTION / FRIENDSHIP
KEYWORDS: DYSTOPIA / BULLYING / VIDEO GAMES

A dystopia where two parallel worlds collide, with a group of unpopular friends, and an unexpected final twist.

A powerful narrative concept: four teenagers in an ordinary provincial town on one side, four cyborgs/mutants in a video game universe on the other, and one question: what connects them?

A Stranger Things-inspired aesthetic for an original universe that blends dystopia, video games, and coming-of-age narrative, tackling very contemporary themes: bullying, identity quest, and love.

A poignant and timely novel with poetic writing. An ode to hope and creativity in a world that keeps self-destructing.

THE AUTHOR:

After studying literature, Thomas Bérard became a journalist and then an editor. For nearly fifteen years, he was in charge of the fiction department at Sarbacane Editions before deciding in 2022 to “take the leap” and devote himself entirely to writing. He has already published several books for both adults and young readers.

LA PASSERELLE DES DAMNÉES

By Charlotte Bousquet, Christine Féret-Fleury & Fabien Fernandez

THEME: FANTASY / PARANORMAL
KEYWORDS: WITCHCRAFT / HALLOWEEN

What if the fate of the world rested in the hands of three strangers, on a highway rest stop? A chilling and poignant horror novel, offering a one-way trip to the fringes of the paranormal...

As a violent snowstorm erupts, three teenagers find themselves stranded at a highway rest stop on Halloween night. Despite their differences, fate has brought them together on the same road, the A6. Though they seem worlds apart, they are united by the weight of their past.

As the tension rises in the crowded gas station, strange occurrences begin to unfold... The veil between the world of the dead and the living seems to thin, as if a dark force is gradually taking over the place. Is this storm truly a natural phenomenon? Could the old, abandoned museum on the other side of the highway, showcasing the history of witches burned in the Middle Ages, have something to do with it?

In this night that feels like the end of the world, will Maxance, Nadia, and Hadrien be able to join forces and confront their demons?

A young adult horror novel that slowly immerses the reader into pure paranormal terror, as the characters confront their own inner demons.

THE AUTHORS:

Philosopher by training, Charlotte Bousquet is a committed and eclectic author who has published more than fifty titles for adults and teenagers. She masters both the genres of speculative fiction and historical fiction, as well as documentaries, mirror novels, and comics.

Christine Féret-Fleury is an author and editor (currently an external editor for Hachette Livre). Since her first children’s book, Le Petit Tamour (1996), she has published over a hundred novels for both children and adults.

Fabien Fernandez is an author, screenwriter, and game designer who has published role-playing games and gamebooks. He has written several novels and also scripted comic books. His favorite writing theme is human nature, from the worst to the best.

LA GRANDE AVENTURE DE NOTRE-DAME DE PARIS

By Évelyne Brisou-Pellen & Djilian Deroche

THEME: HISTORY

KEYWORDS: CATHEDRAL / MONUMENT / PARIS

A new book in the '100 Episodes' series, marking the reopening of Notre-Dame. From its beginnings as a Celtic temple to the fire that ravaged the cathedral, Evelyne Brisou-Pellen looks back over 2,000 years of history.

It all began in 62 BC, when the Druids built a new temple in the heart of the city of Lutetia, using an oak tree to support the doorway. The tree-turned-pillar has witnessed many major historical events: when the city was conquered by the Romans, Viking invasions, royal coronations, revolutions... The temple became a Roman fanum, then a church, and, finally, the cathedral as we know it today. The tree also tells the story of a family that, from generation to generation, has always had close ties with this Parisian monument.

Evelyne's experienced writing (3 million copies sold) embarks readers on a journey through the centuries from an original viewpoint: that of a tree used to build the very first temple. Djilian Deroche's illustrations embellish the text by plunging readers into precise, well-documented images with strong symbolic meaning. ■

THE AUTHOR:

Évelyne Brisou-Pellen is an award-winning author of historical fiction for children. Her passion is to recreate kingdoms and eras long gone, for which she does extensive research.

LES ÉTOILES MONTANTES

By Mabrouck Rachedi

THEME: FRIENDSHIP

KEYWORDS: SELF-ESTEEM / CINEMA / SCHOOL

Four lost middle schoolers with nothing in common take on a challenge that gives their lives new meaning... and introduces them to the art of cinematography.

When their teacher, Ms. Tayeb, encourages four teenagers to take part in a screenwriting competition, they're determined to prove themselves...

This funny and moving novel, full of humanity, explores important themes from several points of view: How do you keep going in the face of adversity? How can you trust in yourself and others? How can you overcome restrictive thinking?

Teen social issues also run throughout the novel, such as racism, bullying, and single-parent families, as well as references to movies.

Mabrouk Rachedi has already been published by L'École des Loisirs and Actes Sud Junior, and this novel is his first book with Milan.

THE AUTHOR:

Mabrouck Rachedi is a writer and columnist. He is the author of Le Poids d'une âme (Lattès, 2006), Éloge du miséreux (Michalon, 2007). In 2009, he was selected for the International Writing Program at the University of Iowa. He also runs writing workshops for schools and out-of-school groups.

MARTHE ET LES FRÈRES FRIMM

By Gaël Bordet & Grégory Elbaz

THEME: ADVENTURE / HUMOR

KEYWORDS: FANTASTIC / MONSTER

A new adventure, full of humor and magic, for our star duo: an intrepid girl with a sharp tongue and a wise, debonair monster.

Reality has once again collided with the world of fairy tales and magic, and the cursed Frimm brothers are not to blame... Marthe, Mastok, the faithful Tarasque, and a few friends will have to cunningly invent, fight and dare everything to restore balance. In this breathless quest, Marthe meets Luce, a shady girl who looks strangely like her and who lives in the world of fairies...

While a strange instrument somewhere between a rattle and a weathervane, the Wind of the Globes, seems capable of awakening fairy tales, a mysterious legend, "La Clé d'or" ("The Golden Key"), gets mixed up with reality... And our world finds itself engulfed in a snowstorm.

It looks as if a clash between the forces of good and evil is brewing in the magical forest...

These are just some of the ingredients for a new adventure from Marthe and Mastok, one that's wild and wild, and as surprising as ever!

THE AUTHOR:

Gaël Bordet trained as a sociologist, he has always been interested in writing. His first novel, "Le Cas Rubis C", won the NRP prize for children's literature. Shortlisted for a number of other prizes (including the Grand Prix de l'Imaginaire), it is on the list of titles recommended by the French Ministry of Education.

THE ILLUSTRATOR:

Grégory Elbaz is an eclectic illustrator born in 1980. Sometimes realistic, sometimes dreamlike, his drawings remain sensitive, even when they veer into humor. In addition to children's publishing, Grégory Elbaz also works in animation and comics.

AGENCE PERDIDO | SERIES

By Victor Dixen

THEME: INVESTIGATIONS

KEYWORDS: THRILLS / MONSTERS / NEW YORK

The universal bogeyman myth used to address the theme of loss and grief. A new multi-format saga by a French master of fantasy: Victor Dixen.

Lucy's life is turned upside down when her mother mysteriously disappears.

The 15-year-old orphan is forced to leave her house in the Catskills and go live in New York City with her aunt Doris, who forces her to steal on trains to pay her rent. Then, one day, Lucy meets Rita Perdido, a woman shrouded in secrets, who offers Lucy the chance to join her unusual agency, specialized in the art of "finding". Lucy discovers that she is part of an endangered caste: finders. Since the dawn of time, these humans have possessed the power to enter the "oubliettes" where boogeymen live, tasked with retrieving lost objects, people, and memories. Convinced that her mother has been kidnapped by a boogeyman, Lucy sets out to find her with the help of Jasper, a young finder who has also lost everything.

But it's not just the fate of her family that hangs in the balance: as the last of the finders die out, boogeymen are growing in power and plotting a horrific revenge against those that live on the surface...

THE AUTHOR:
Victor Dixen double winner of the Grand Prix de l'Imaginaire, is one of the leading voices in fantasy literature, and his books are translated into a dozen languages (Animale, Cogito, Extincta, as well as the Phobos and Vampyria series). Born to a Danish father and a French mother, he has lived in Paris, Dublin, Singapore, and New York. He now resides in Washington D.C.

in an old Victorian house with creaky floors, full of dark corners and squeaky doors. A real haunted house, where Victor suspects the presence of a... boogeyman.. In Perdido Agency, Victor Dixen tackles this major figure of our nightmares. Far from being monsters invented to scare children, boogeymen really exist and keep stealing objects, people, and memories from the surface. That is why Victor always leaves a light on when he goes to bed... As for his two sharp-eyed cats, they are trained to signal any boogeyman intrusion into his writing workshop.

MAUMONT

major player in publishing in France as well as abroad, Bayard Group's children's list features a number of international fiction bestsellers, such as Eragon, Goosebumps, Six of Crows, etc.

But fiction at Bayard is also made up of a sustained and qualitative range of French creations. Our editors are always on the lookout for young French talents, who innovate in both their writing style and contemporary approach to social issues. Our catalog showcases some of the best French literary authors, such as Anne-Laure Bondoux, Malika Ferdjoukh, Bernard Friot, Anna Gavalda, and Marie-Aude Murail ("Hans Christian Andersen Prize" 2022), Insa Sané. (...) So, what do all these writers have in common? What makes up the DNA of this French production? First of all, they share a quality of language, a rich, intimate and poetic vocabulary. But they also emphasize values centered on listening, they encourage introspection to help children express their emotions, they take on strong social topics such as grief or disability, for an inclusive, diverse, tolerant and benevolent representation of society, and of course they imagine adventures and tales to embark young minds on a journey!

Our catalog also embraces multiple formats as most of our content is available as an e-book or sometimes audio version. We take a 360° approach to all our immersive worlds.

Within the Bayard Jeunesse brand, we develop illustrated fiction formats that provide a gateway to reading for the most reluctant children, thanks to our know-how in comics and illustrations. We strive to ensure that every child finds the right fit, through both the format and level of closeness.

■ The Nos cœurs tordus trilogy, written by Séverine Vidal and Manu Causse, delights parents, teachers and children with a narrative from multiple points of view and a sensitive approach to disability.

■ Finally, don't miss out on our bestselling series, Les Dragons de Nalsara, 900,000 copies sold, by Marie-Hélène Delval, for a journey into a world where children train dragons.

At Milan, we find it paramount to keep a firm grip on reality and to observe the major changes in our world. Our books question the environmental impact of human activity, our socio-economic models, our relationship with technology and the use of data, and our multiple, non-standard family structures. Our literature is engaged and engaging, at a child's level, for all age groups.

■ Les Histoires pressées, 1,400,000 copies sold, radiate Bernard Friot's love of words and turn children into writers. He won several prizes in Italy ("Premio Andersen" 2009, 2016, "Premio Liber Miglior libor" 2019) and in France ("Prix des dévoreurs de livres" 2016, "Prix Poésie des lecteurs" "Lire et faire lire" 2017).

■ Polar Vert, a breath-taking series that combines adventure, suspense and ecology.

We hope that you will enjoy the titles and series we have selected for you as much as we did. They may well become your children's bedside table books...

COMMENT J'AI (UN PEU) SAUVÉ LE MONDE

By Sophie Chabanel

THEME: NATURE & THE ENVIRONMENT / HUMOR

KEYWORDS: ECOANXIETY / YOUTH / ACTIVISM / CONTEMPORARY

The planet is on the brink of extinction, my mom still thinks I'm 5, my dad is in love with his motorcycle, and I only have one friend at school. The world's in bad shape...

Rose has been living with her mom ever since her parents got divorced. Her dad only cares about his motorcycles. At high school, Rose is keen to make a difference and join a feminist organization or Youth for Climate. After a competition organized by the city and an unexpected encounter, she decides to set up a compo-poster in her building. Because little things can make a big difference. But not everyone in the building is ready to change their ways. And some seem determined to make things difficult for her...

A contemporary teen novel that takes a positive and constructive approach to eco-anxiety—how can you take action on a small level? How can you find your voice when you're a quiet, shy girl?

The heroine perfectly embodies a young voice and takes a lucid and funny look at the world, tackling important issues, such as relationships with parents and others, standing up for what you believe, and intergenerational friendships.

THE AUTHOR:

Sophie Chabanel works in the non-profit sector. After twelve years in the field, she decided to start writing. She has written several thrillers published by Editions du Seuil and an ecology essay.

GRANDES VACANCES AU MINI-VIETNAM

By Jean-Luc Marçais

THEME: HISTORY / FANTASY

KEYWORDS: COLONIZATION / ADVENTURE / IMMIGRATION

Jean-Luc is on vacation at his grandparents' house when a ghost entrusts him with a mission: to find his lost love.

Jean-Luc is going on vacation to Vietnam. At least, that's what he thinks. He's actually going camping with his grandparents to a little Vietnamese village recreated in southwestern France by "repatriates from Indochina" in the 1950s. Jean-Luc and his cousin go on all kinds of adventures! Then, one day, a dead chicken starts talking to him. It's the ghost of a French soldier who fell in love with a Vietnamese woman and deserted the army, dying before he could reach her. The ghost asks Jean-Luc to complete a mission: to find his love and give her a message so that he can finally leave in peace. The woman must be one of the old ladies living at the camp, but how can he find her? And so, begins an investigation that stirs up ghosts of the past. A whimsical adventure with light, funny writing that embarks readers to the heart of Vietnamese culture, inspired by the author's own life!

The novel is currently being adapted into an audiovisual project.

THE AUTHOR-ILLUSTRATOR:

Jean-Luc Marçais works as an illustrator for Parisian museums, children's publishing, and the press. He also works on animation projects. Grandes vacances au mini-Vietnam is his first novel as an author and illustrator.

LE JOUR OÙ J'AI RENCONTRÉ WALTER

By Jo Hoestlandt

THEME: HISTORY / ROMANCE

KEYWORD: WW2 / LOVE / INTERGENERATION

When Lily takes in Walter, her elderly neighbor's dog, she discovers an 80-year-old secret. Could the old lady's tough exterior be hiding a war-torn heart?

When Lily's neighbor is forced into a retirement home, Lily ends up looking after the old lady's dog. She's always dreamed of having a dog! But the animal seems sad to be separated from its mistress and refuses to eat. To help it get better and win its trust, Lily decides to find out more about her grouchy old neighbor. Who is this woman who barely says hello? What happened to her to make her so wary of the outside world?

Why does she only talk to her dog? Lily discovers that people's past stories sometimes intertwine with history, in particular the Second World War and Occupation. And that people can fall in love during wartime, even if they're on opposing sides.

A tender novel by a multi-award-winning author shortlisted for the Je Bouquine Grand Concours des Jeunes Écrivains.

ENTRÉE FRACASSANTE DES ACTRICES

By Esmé Planchon & Manon Bucciarelli

THEME: FRIENDSHIP
KEYWORDS: CINEMA / GHOSTS / MYSTERY

A theatre workshop by the sea and a fantastical, colorful investigation, as two friends follow in the footsteps of a Hollywood movie as mythical as it is mysterious.

Two old friends reunite in a seaside town for a theatre and film workshop, based on the work of Robert Kelly, the great Hollywood filmmaker.

Louise and Myrna play the two heroines in The Travellers' Hotel, the filmmaker's most bizarre movie. As they run through their lines, the girls gradually notice parts of the film come to life, and the two actresses emerge as ghosts.

As they discover themselves through acting, the girls decide to investigate and untangle the truth from the false and reality from myths.

Sparkling, original, and modern writing explores acting, movies, friendship, the relationship between the real and imaginary, LGBTQIA+ culture, and feminism.

This burlesque feel-good book stands out from traditional teen novels with its modern and lively composition combining different genres: a multi-perspective novel, play, screenplay, and investigation, brought to life with illustrations (maps, movie tickets, handwritten poems).

THE AUTHOR:
Esmé Planchon stages musicals, organizes happenings in galleries, night clubs, etc., and tells stories. She is the author of Faut jouer le jeu, published in 2014 (L'école des loisirs), and On habitera la forêt in 2019 (Casterman).

THE ILLUSTRATOR:
Manon Bucciarelli is a graphic designer who mainly works in publishing. She enjoys creating impactful designs for each project, whether a kid's book, novel, general knowledge book, or cookbook.

J'AI DÛ M'EN ALLER

By Mélanie Edwards

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY / FAMILY LIFE
KEYWORDS: FIRST LOVE / FATHER-SON RELATIONSHIPS / TEENS / EXILE

While on vacation, a father and his two teenage sons get to know and talk to each other again. An encounter with a migrant, and then first love, changes the two brothers forever...

Dimitri and his brother Tom set off on vacation to Greece with their father, Vincent. They plan on renting a boat and island hopping. Dimitri hopes to get closer to his quiet father. But things don't go as planned. First, they meet Seydou, a migrant from Mali trying to reach his wife and baby in Italy. Then Dimitri falls in love with Penelope, a bright girl he meets along the way. And finally, Vincent can't stop thinking about his friend who died years ago.

A magnificent, emotional journey on the Aegean Sea. The author's sensitive writing captures the beauty of the Mediterranean landscapes, as well as the intensity of the boys' emotions, with a tragically moving ending. The novel explores topical and universal themes with great accuracy: first love, communication issues, mental health, pain, and exile.

THE AUTHOR:
Mélanie Edwards is a children's book editor and an author of picture books and novels. She notably penned several volumes of the C'est la vie, Lulu series. She loves illustrations, collages, reading and travelling.

MADOU EN 5 ACTES

By Guillaume Nail

© JEFF OSTBERG

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY

KEYWORDS: YOUTH / SELF-DISCOVERY / WRITING

How can you picture your life as an adult? How can you find the missing piece when you don't know what it is? Join Madou as she sets out to find herself, in 5 acts...

Madou has to make big decisions for her future early on before she knows who she is. Between her parent's misguided hopes and a fantasy dreamlife that doesn't reflect reality or her innermost needs, Madou loses her way... only to find herself again in the final act.

This 5-act immersion into the world of theatre and art depicts a teenager torn between a longing for self-fulfillment and a fear of not fitting in. This coming-of-age novel reflects the doubts and anxieties that many high school students feel about their future careers.

This book touches on the glamour of the stage, appearances, and the need to create... Guillaume Nail (Prix Vendredi 2022 finalist for Ton absence, published by Rouergue) draws on the world of theatre to mirror the challenges kids face when moving into adulthood.

THE AUTHOR:

After working as a journalist and translator, Guillaume Nail became a screenwriter and author. He is well-known for his books for kids. A strong advocate of equality and diversity issues, he is committed to better recognition for children's book authors.

LES SŒURS WICKWOOD

By Ludivine Irolla

© CHARLIER BOWATER

THEME: FANTASY

KEYWORDS: SISTERS / MAGIC / THE OCCULT

Two very different sisters who would do anything for each other... Set in Victorian England, in a neo-Gothic atmosphere.

The Wickwood sisters have been living in poverty and oblivion for years. Their family was the prestigious Royal Occultists, a title as grand as it was mysterious. But ten years later, all that is left is Medora and her sister Allegra, forgotten by all. Medora steals to survive, while Allegra tries to unlock the secrets of the occult. They were never trained or experienced the Transmission, the final stage before learning the secrets of the occult. The sisters are a little strange and intimidate everyone. Except their neighbor, Cornelius. Although he is afraid of the hot-tempered Medora, he loves spending time with Allegra, sometimes forgetting that she is a ghost and that she died years ago.

One day, he brings them a letter that changes everything: a royal summons. All the words in the Book of Dark Worlds (the occultists' grimoire) have disappeared! If the sisters can solve the mystery, King Aloysius promises to restore their family's name and make them Royal Occultists once again.

Desperate, the sisters set off in search of the book, but they are about to discover far bigger and more personal secrets. Their quest turns out to be a search for their own identity, during which they uncover terrible secrets about the Wickwood family.

LA VARIANTE DU DRAGON

By Christophe Lambert

THEME: HISTORY

KEYWORDS: WW2 / CHESS / STRATEGY / ENEMIES

During the Second World War, a chess match between a young Jewish boy and a high-ranking Nazi official could change the future of the world.

Washington, 1943. Markus Eisenberg is an eighteen-year-old Jewish boy from Germany who emigrated to the USA with his mother and aunt after his father was killed on "Kristallnacht". Markus has dreamt of revenge ever since. He joins the army and waits to be sent to Europe. But his superior has other plans for him...

He tells him about a prison camp near Washington, Camp 11-42, where German soldiers and scientists are being held. The Military Chief of Staff has decided to use a gentle method to extract information from them, by sending in young men to befriend them and get them to talk.

Markus is assigned Officer Hans Reinhardt, a high-ranking member of the German secret service, who was captured on board a submarine in the Caribbean. He has only one passion in life: chess. Just like Markus. ■

THE AUTHOR:

35 KILOS D'ESPOIR

By Anna Gavalda

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY
KEYWORDS: SCHOOL / GRANDPARENTS / COMING-OF-AGE

“Everything at school is all Greek to me. It goes in one ear and out the other.” The sensitive issue of academic failure explored with great sensitivity and care, proving that anyone can succeed if they find their calling...

Grégoire hates school so much that by middle school, he’s already two years behind everyone else. The only place he feels good is in his grandad Léon’s shed, his refuge. They spend hours on end pottering around together. There, Grégoire can freely work with his hands, invent, create. But when Grégoire is expelled from school, Léon is furious. He gives up trying to help his grandson, who doesn’t want his sympathy anyway. Maybe it’s time for Grégoire to grow up...

A beautiful and moving story to broach the topic of academic failure and finding one’s way.

 RECOMMENDED BY THE FRENCH MINISTRY OF NATIONAL EDUCATION.

36 HEURES DANS LA BRUME

By Nathalie Somers

THEME: MYSTERY / ACTION & ADVENTURE / SIBLINGS
KEYWORDS: AMNESIA / GANGSTERS / SAN FRANCISCO

A half-drowned teenager wakes up with amnesia. His only memory: a girl with her hair blowing in the wind, about to jump off a bridge. And a sense of urgency. He has to save her and time is running out...

In San Francisco Bay in 1934, the teenager, Matt, has a gunshot wound to the head and seems to be suffering from temporary amnesia. He is haunted by an image: a girl about to jump off a bridge. But who is she? All he knows is that he recognizes her, loves her and has to save her. He can feel a sense of urgency, so he embarks on a frantic race through San Francisco in search of memories. Over the next few hours, he meets a girl from Chinatown who helps him, gets mixed up in a gang war, and has to confront gangsters working for Al Capone himself. The girl he remembers is his twin sister, who has been kidnapped by gangsters to try and free their leader. Will Matt be able to foil their plan in time?

2000 ANS POUR S'AIMER

By Marie-Aude Murail

THEME: ROMANCE / HISTORY
KEYWORDS: MAGIC / LEGENDS / ROMANCE

It's a perfume bottle. It doesn't look like much, but the perfume inside is said to have stunning powers which only ever work in the presence of a wolf. A little perfume bottle, six different eras, and the timeless love stories around it.

The protagonist of this novel is a small bottle. What does it contain? Perfume. It holds miraculous powers that only work in the presence of a wolf...

Over the centuries, it mysteriously disappears and reappears at just the right moment.

Combining fantasy and realism, Marie-Aude Murail takes us on a journey through two millennia in six stories. Each chapter plunges the reader into a great historical moment, from Ancient Rome to the modern era.

Published as a serial in Je Bouquine magazine, the stories form a magnificent novel that adventure lovers, history buffs and hopeless romantics alike will love!

A beautiful novel about the eternity of love in the face of the fragility of life.

Three martial arts aficionados travel back to 16th century Japan, where they must find the weapons of legendary Samurai and thwart an evil ninja's terrible plans!

Sakura, Léon and Logan are fervent practitioners of Kendo, Judo and Karate respectively. When they're invited to a martial arts training course by famous master Saburo, they find an old black-lacquered box with a mysterious star-shaped origami and three magic rings inside. These objects belonged to Hiro, Eiko and Ako of the Minamoto clan, Samurai warriors who were tasked with guarding a treasure. When the children slip the rings onto their fingers, they find themselves transported back to 16th century Japan. To go back home, they must find Eiko's weapon, inside which her soul was trapped. But a terrible black ninja seeks it too...

LA BOUTIQUE EXTRAORDINAIRE DE NICODÈME | SERIES

By Nathalie Somers

THEME: ACTION & ADVENTURE / FAMILY
KEYWORDS: SUPERNATURAL / TIME TRAVEL

When twins Axel and Mina touch a wooden cat in their cranky great-uncle's house, they find themselves in Ancient Egypt. Could this be related to their mother's disappearance?

After their mother disappears under mysterious circumstances, 11-year-old twins Axel and Mina are sent to stay with their great-uncle Nicodème. The old man is a bit eccentric, very grumpy, and has a strange collection of old toys at the back of his store... one of which awakens their time-travelling powers.

Transported back through time and into different eras, the twins soon find out that there are greater things at play than they could ever have imagined... and that their missing mother might well be involved.

An exciting series that kids who grew up reading The Magic Tree House will love!

CALAMITY

By Christophe Lambert

THEME: ACTION & ADVENTURE / FRIENDSHIP / HISTORY
KEYWORDS: WESTERN

At 11, Martha Jane is already in charge of her household. Stifled by responsibilities and social pressure, she dreams only of riding wild and free. Wrongly accused of theft, she embarks on an epic quest to prove her innocence.

A convoy of pioneers travels through the Wild West, in search of a better life.

Among them, the Cannary family, and 11-year-old Martha Jane, whose fiery personality tends to get her into trouble. She struggles with the expectations placed on girls in her community—she wants to go horse-riding, throw a lasso and switch her skirt for a comfortable pair of trousers.

So, when adventure comes knocking at her door, Martha Jane throws herself into a coming-of-age journey that leads her as far as the American frontier.

The extraordinary life of Martha Jane Cannary, or how a young girl with a rebellious streak becomes the legend known as Calamity Jane. A strong and inspiring female figure's coming-of-age. Adapted from an animated film.

LES CHATS

By Marie-Hélène Delval

THEME: MYSTERY & DETECTIVE / FANTASY
KEYWORDS: CATS / INVESTIGATION

When Sebasto arrives at his Grandpa's for the summer, a strange cat with silver eyes seems to be waiting for him. Day in, day out, the cat sits there and watches. Until comes another cat... and another. Then the nightmares begin.

One morning, Sebasto finds a black cat outside his adopted grandpa Da's house. Nothing out of the ordinary, right? But the animal makes him feel uneasy. Could it be the strange metallic spark in its eyes? Or the dead animal bodies that keep appearing? A pigeon, followed by other animals, each one larger than the last. But when a second cat turns up, and then a third, Sebasto's concerns soon turn into fear...

This novel is an introduction to the fantasy genre, whisking young readers into a troubling world of uncertainty and strangeness. A sense of unease rises from page to page, in a perfectly controlled suspense. The deep affection shared by the two main characters and an element of fear add depth to this novel, creating a powerful reading experience.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FRENCH MINISTRY OF NATIONAL EDUCATION.

CITÉ LES ARGONAUTES | SERIES

By Insa Sané

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY / FRIENDSHIP
KEYWORDS: HIGH SCHOOL / EVERYDAY LIFE

The Argonaute is just like any other housing project. High-rise concrete buildings in the middle of nowhere. Only nowhere doesn't exist. And Bounégueux, Jeanne, Mehdi, Erwan and Maya want to exist.

Five teens embark on an epic journey through life, from 5th grade to college, experiencing innocence, laughter and first kisses, but also racism, mistrust, revolt and violence...

Told from five points of view, this series is a five-volume saga mapping out each character's journey, intrinsically linked with their social backgrounds and families, but without any form of miserabilism. Each grows in confidence in this environment that brings challenges and trials to overcome, choices to make, pitfalls to avoid... or not.

In Cité des Argonautes, Insa Sané gives a voice to characters often forgotten in literature, and strives to erase the idea that "others" are not like us.

THE AUTHOR:

Insa Sané is an author, actor, screenwriter, songwriter, and performer. When he's not on stage or in a studio, Insa is writing novels. He is best-known for his novels Sarcelles-Dakar and Du plomb dans le crâne.

CLONES EN STOCK

By Pascale Maret

THEME: SCIENCE-FICTION / ACTION & ADVENTURE
KEYWORDS: CLONING / DYSTOPIA

Quatre Bleu lives a peaceful life, until he finds out that he's in fact a clone, raised to supply spare organs should "the original" need some. Horrified, he runs, and must learn to live in the world outside.

Nothing. Quatre Bleu knew nothing of his life. He didn't know that he was a clone. He didn't know that his role, like millions of others, was to provide spare organs if needed. But now he knows. And that makes everything different.

When he finds out about the truth of his existence, Quatre Bleu decides to turn his back on his fate and face the unknown. With help from Alaya, a girl from Africaland, he tries to escape from his pursuers and conquer his humanity.

The perfect introduction to the science-fiction genre.

COMMENT JE VAIS DEVENIR ÉCRIVAIN (SI TOUT VA BIEN)

By Anne-Gaëlle Balpe

THEME: HUMOR

KEYWORDS: WRITING / MIDDLE SCHOOL

Samuel's never been particularly fond of reading or writing. But when a writing workshop by a famous author turns out to be surprisingly captivating, Sam steals her notebook... and finds his life turned upside-down.

"I put the notebook in a drawer as soon as I get home, under a pile of paper. To hide it, but mainly also, to forget it. To forget that I'm the idiot who stole an author's notebook for no reason, just because I felt guilty for taking a peek inside. And now, it's in my house. What should I do with it? I can't exactly throw it away! What if it holds all of Pauline Sauterterre's ideas? What if, because of me, she can never write again? For the rest of her life?"

This is how Samuel, a student in middle-school, discovers his love for writing. But how do you admit, at the age of eleven, that you are a thief and a budding author?

A back-to-school story full of humor that middle-schoolers will relate to.

A funny yet informative guide to writing, full of hidden advice, revealing that creativity is a muscle and writing is like a journey... A novel within a novel.

A book for reading and writing lovers.

THE AUTHOR:

Anne-Gaëlle Balpe is a former schoolteacher who spends all her time writing, meeting her readers and running creative writing workshops. She's published over twenty books, and works for magazines as well.

LE DESTIN DE LINUS HOPPE

By Anne-Laure Bondoux

THEME: SCIENCE-FICTION

KEYWORDS: ANTICIPATION / REBELLION / DYSTOPIA

The breathtaking story of 14-year-old Linus Hoppe, who refuses to accept the comfortable life that's been planned for him by the Great Authority. No, Linus wants to choose his life by himself. But freedom comes at a cost...

Linus Hoppe lives in Sphere 1 with his parents and his sister Mieg. In three months, he must appear before the Great Authority, a pivotal moment in his life. He will either remain in Sphere 1, a perfect and elitist world where a peaceful life with his family awaits him, or move down to Sphere 2 or 3, far from his loved ones, in a difficult environment. According to his parents, the exam is a mere formality. But Linus doesn't want someone else to determine his future... How could a life that you don't choose be better than a life of freedom and risk? So along with his friend Chem, a computer whizz, Linus makes a different choice.

A novel that subtly questions what society expects of us, the life we choose, and the price of freedom. ■

DJADJA ON THE ROAD

By Claire Aubé

THEME: ADVENTURE / FRIENDSHIP

KEYWORDS: RUNNING AWAY / OUT OF THE ORDINARY / GROWING UP

This book explores the theme of teen runaways from another angle, focusing on the journey, encounters and discoveries, rather than the act of running away.

A coming-of-age road-movie for Djadja, 13 years old, and her rabbit. The clandestine journey begins in the luggage compartment of a bus heading to Geneva, where she hopes to find her father... Djadja is on a mission to better understand her life and grow. A feel-good, refreshing novel, with an unlikely and fun trio. ■

THE AUTHOR:

Claire Aubé worked as a journalist and wrote two self-help books before moving into fiction for children's books. She likes to show that there is good in everyone and plunges her characters into funny and absurd situations. L'ENFER AU COLLÈGE

By Arthur Ténor

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY

KEYWORDS: EDUCATION / SCHOOL / BULLYING / VIOLENCE

On Gaspard's first day at his new school, Anthony immediately dislikes him. Soon, the mean teasing escalates into verbal and physical violence, until Gaspard can't take it anymore. A poignant call to awareness against bullying.

It's Gaspard's first day at his new school. An opportunity to make new friends? Not really. Anthony, the class' loudmouth, has decided to make Gaspard's life hell, just for laughs, because Gaspard looks like the brainy type and he just doesn't like him.

It all starts with dirty tricks, nothing too serious. But then it turns vicious and cruel, until Gaspard is completely cornered with no way out.

A heart-wrenching book to broach the sensitive topic of bullying and school violence.

THE AUTHOR:
Arthur Ténor has written many novels. He often visits schools and book fairs. An "explorer of the imaginary", he writes stories that blend action, suspense, tender feelings, humor and fantasy.

LA FAMILLE REBLOCHOU | SERIES

By Claire Renaud & Vincent Caut

THEME: HUMOR / FRIENDSHIP / FAMILY LIFE

KEYWORDS: MOVING AWAY

The Reblochous are cheese makers from father to son, but when the family decides to move away from the mountains and into town, you'd think aliens had just landed on Earth...

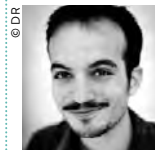

The Reblochou family lead a peaceful life in a mountain-top village... A little too peaceful. The mother is bored among all the cows, and dreams of opening a cheese shop in the nearby town. So, she convinces the rest of the family to move into an apartment above a cheese shop. Everyone is happy, except for Grandpa, who's never lived anywhere but the mountains and wouldn't leave his goat Blanquette behind for the world. So he brings her along too. And the townsfolk had better leave him alone... Or else!

A generational culture clash, reflecting on the modern world and its excesses, against a cheese-loving backdrop! A funny and tender family series.

THE AUTHOR:

Claire Renaud is the author of Les quatre gars (selected for the "Prix des Incos") and Les mamies attaquent, awarded the "Prix du polar jeunesse" at the Quais du Polar festival.

LE FARFAFRICHE ET AUTRES CONTES DU QUARTIER

By Joséphine Lebard

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY

KEYWORDS: TALE / FRIENDS / MAGIC / SUBURB

A modern version of Pierre Gripari's The Tales of Brocac Street, whose ambition is to turn the outskirts of big cities, which are all too often confined to realistic stories, into a space for dreams and imagination.

Three modern tales set in very real locations: apartment blocks, industrial wastelands, canals, buses, etc. The author brings out the extraordinary of these places through everyday characters, who represent inner-city youth; children whose background or skin color is irrelevant, and who have adventures everywhere they go. The author uses her knowledge of the subject to create a book that highlights the richness of the French suburbs.

THE AUTHOR:

Joséphine Lebard is a journalist and author. She works for Arte, Le Monde among others, on the topics of society, culture, education. She published Une année à Clichy, co-written with Bahar Makool.

LA FILLE D'EN FACE

By Malika Ferdjoukh

THEME: ACTION & ADVENTURE / DAILY LIFE AND SOCIETY

KEYWORDS: DISABILITY / MEETING PEOPLE

Sick and stuck in bed, Casimir can't go outside. His only distraction? The new girl across the street. Why does she never leave the house? Why does she move so strangely? A mystery in the same vein as Hitchcock's Rear Window.

Casimir is stuck in bed with tonsillitis. One day, he notices a new neighbor moving into the house across the street. When he sees the girl from his window, something inside him changes. He can't go out, so he watches her with his binoculars. Who is this girl who never leaves the house? Why does she move around so strangely? Casimir comes up with a plan to meet her.

The mystery soon turns into an obsession as Casimir, sick and with nowhere to go, spends his days waiting.

Through captivating writing and Hitchcock-style suspense as well as a combination of mystery and emotion, La fille d'en face is a novel somewhere between a thriller and a life story.

THE AUTHOR:

Malika Ferdjoukh was born in 1957 in Algeria. She writes novels for children, such as the Quatre Sœurs series and Broadway Limited, published by L'École des loisirs. She also writes for film and TV.

LA FILLE QUI SOURIT

By Laurence Gillot

THEME: ROMANCE

KEYWORDS: HAPPINESS / ACCIDENT / FATHER-DAUGHTER RELATIONSHIP / PHILOSOPHY

Smile and life will smile back at you... This is Adèle's mantra, as she spreads happiness wherever she goes. But is it possible to still smile when you fall in love with a boy who is broken from head to toe?

Adèle is 16 years old. She hasn't spoken to her dad since the divorce and her mom is always busy. The only other people in her life are Louise, her best friend, and her little brother. She's spent every evening for the past few months at hospital, where her brother is being treated for a dumb pelvis fracture. Adèle likes to see the bright side of life and is full of joy and imagination. Because life is nicer that way.

One day, while visiting her brother, she meets a boy her age, Pierre, who is plastered from head to toe. He was in a car accident with his parents. His dad died instantly, and his mom is in a coma. As for him... he's here. How can you keep smiling in those circumstances? How can you make someone else smile again? Should you always smile? Adèle has so many questions as she discovers love.

THE AUTHOR:

Laurence Gillot has been a children's book author for 25 years. She wrote the Lulu-Grenadine series (Nathan) and the storylines for P'tit Boule et Bill (Dargaud). She is a journalist in Nancy and a postcard artist. She runs creative and letter writing workshops.

LES FORMIDABLES

By Ève Pourcel & Various Illustrators

THEME: HISTORY

KEYWORDS: CHANGING THE WORLD / SOCIETY

100 portraits of “formidable” people who changed the world in their own way. Whether historical figures or everyday heroes, each one is a source of inspiration at a time when the future of our society is called into question.

They were writers, actors, environmentalists, doctors, nurses, builders, bakers or simple passersby... They came from all over the world and all walks of life. The common denominator? They all shared the same desire to change the world and believed in solidarity and tolerance.

This beautifully illustrated book brings together their inspiring stories: Wangari Maathai, Novak Djokovic, Norma Romero, Léon Tolstoï, Nicholas Winton, Leymah Gbowee, Paul Watson, Mary Edwards Walker, José Alberto Gutierrez Sandoval, Joséphine Baker, Jane Goodall, Maria Montessori, Stanislav Petrov, Miguel Angel Estrella, Charlie Chaplin, Sarah Breedlove, Greta Thunberg, Jadav Payeng and many more!

Four talented illustrators create a unique graphic universe for these exceptional and inspiring figures who changed the world throughout the centuries. 50 portraits of men, 50 portraits of women... so that each and every young reader knows that all of us can be amazing! ■

THE AUTHOR:

Ève Pourcel developed an interest in true stories, about extraordinary lives, from an early age. A documentary filmmaker, she believes that children need to feel that they can make a difference in the world, especially today.

FUREUR MOUSTACHE

By Gaël Bordet & Arnaud Poitevin

THEME: ACTION & ADVENTURE / HUMOR
KEYWORDS: REBELLION / FAIRYTALE PARODY

Don't be fooled by this kingdom made out of candy... The Emperor, Fureur I, is a tyrant who forces everyone to grow a half-moustache like him. Luckily, two brave children decide to start a revolution!

Fureur I, the tyrannical Emperor of Zanzivar, loves his moustache, even after an attack robbed him of half of it. So, everyone, be they men, women, or children, must now sport a half-moustache! Or face the dictator's wrath...

Azuela, the tyrannical Empress of Zanzivar, hates pirates. They all have to hand over their boats and become hair-dresser-barber-moustachers, which is useful in a kingdom with so many moustaches. Balthazar's father is one of them, until one fine day, he fails to style a bun in the shape of an emperor penguin and is sent, along with his crew, to a flooded dungeon full of mussels, leaving Balthazar all alone in the world.

Luckily, Balthazar meets Zélie, who is the same age as him. She doesn't have a half-moustache but wears a mask in the shape of a moustache. And she has a plan... To start a revolution and overthrow the Empire!

An adventure novel and fairytale parody, subtly fighting against all forms of tyranny. ■

THE AUTHOR:
 Gaël Bordet is a sociologist who has always had an interest in writing. His work has won awards such as the "Prix NRP de littérature de jeunesse", and is featured on the French Ministry of Education's recommended reading list.

HANA THIERRY, LES HIRONDELLES ET AUTRES NOMS D'OISEAUX

By Touria Arab-Leblondel

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY / BIOGRAPHICAL
KEYWORDS: IDENTITY / DIVERSITY / SOCIAL INTEGRATION

Funny, kind, but uncompromising stories about the reality of life in schools in disadvantaged areas.

Hanna's middle school is in the next town over, in the Hirondelles neighborhood. There, she discovers poverty, exile, undisciplined kids, but above all, friendship, amazing life stories and a buzzing energy. As Hanna navigates between Morocco and France, her name and her appearance, her family and school's culture, how people see her and who she is deep down, she finds the space she needs to be happy.

A true ode to diversity that reveals the beauty, liveliness, humor and potential of teenagers from difficult neighborhoods, who are often stigmatized.

THE AUTHOR:

Touria Arab-Leblondel lives in Angers. She is French, with Moroccan origins, and sees her double culture as a real asset. She works as a training officer for local governments to fight all forms of exclusion. She has always loved reading and began to write about real life at a very early age. She is inspired by social diversity, discovering others and sharing.

LE JOBARD

By Michel Piquemal

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY / FRIENDSHIP
KEYWORDS: PREJUDICE / EXCLUSION / TOLERANCE

Jobard is the village oddball, an eccentric. The kind of guy the adults avoid and the children make fun of. But things aren't always as they appear, as young Brice, who once led the kids tormenting the old man, finds out one day...

Jobard, an eccentric recluse and quite possibly an alcoholic, lives in a shack on the wasteland by the town's housing project. Every day, he roams the neighborhood on his old moped, collecting empty bottles.

Everyone thinks he's crazy and avoids him like the plague. The local kids make fun of him, until one day they discover the real Jobard... An old man trying to bring his lifelong dream to life—to turn the wasteland into a magical place for children, using old glass bottles.

The kids decide to help him and embark on a wonderful adventure... The hunt for bottles is on!

So begins a beautiful friendship between Brice, the leader of those kids who once tormented the old man, and Jobard, who teaches them all to believe in even their wildest dreams!

A moving story, based on true values that are more relevant today than ever before—respect, tolerance, solidarity, and living together.

LES LARMES DE L'ASSASSIN

By Anne-Laure Bondoux

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY / FAMILY
KEYWORDS: COMING-OF-AGE / REDEMPTION

A man murders a couple and adopts their child. When a scholar from the city walks into their lives, the three learn about love, freedom, and redemption. Three characters, three destinies deep in the wildest expanses of Chile.

On the afternoon when Angel Alegria arrives at the Poloverdos' farmhouse, he kills the farmer and his wife. But he spares their child, Paolo—a young boy who would later claim this as the day on which he was born. Together, the killer and the boy begin a new life on this remote and rugged stretch of land in Chile.

Then, Luis Secunda, a well-to-do and educated fellow from the city, descends upon them. Paolo is caught in the paternal rivalry between the two men. But life resumes its course... until circumstances force the three to leave the farm. In doing so, Angel and Luis confront their pasts as well as their inevitable destinies—destinies that profoundly shape Paolo's own future.

An award-winning, poignant western fraught with themes of love, redemption and freedom.

Also adapted in comic book in 2011.

UN LOUP PARMI NOUS

By Anne Schmauch & Loïc Locatelli

THEME: FANTASY / MYSTERY & DETECTIVE
KEYWORDS: INVESTIGATION / WEREWOLF / THRILLER

A goose killer is terrorizing the inhabitants of Hortense and Romuald's neighborhood... Could it be a wolf? The two friends are determined to find out. Time to investigate!

One day, on her way to school, Hortense finds a decapitated goose on her doorstep. Horrified, she discovers that several geese in her neighborhood park have suffered the same fate... With her friend Romuald, she wonders what this strange creature could be, that leaves traces of blood everywhere and even ransacked a butcher shop! Especially since Hortense is starting to feel strange... Which is no surprise, because every night she turns into a werewolf and is behind these bloody crimes! She does everything to hide her true identity, but it's not easy to curb your true nature, especially when you've acquired a taste for meat...

A light-hearted story between comedy and horror: blood, mystery, a werewolf... and lots of humor. Maybe being a werewolf isn't so bad after all!

THE AUTHOR:
 Anne Schmauch was born in 1978 in Metz and lives in Paris, where she studied History of Art many years ago... She writes stories, for the most part funny, for Bayard Presse, as well as for Rageot and Sarbacane.

THE ILLUSTRATOR:

MARSEILLE, BÉBÉ!

By Anaïs Sautier

THEME: ROMANCE / FRIENDSHIP / DAILY LIFE
KEYWORDS: MARSEILLE / MODERN SOCIETY / SOCIAL MEDIA

A modern romance set in the heart of Marseille, from the poorest neighborhoods to the most beautiful beaches.

This novel tells the story of a summer romance and explores lots of contemporary adolescent themes: social media, urban culture, rap, life after Covid... The main character, a strong female figure, navigates social anxiety, which is rarely discussed but affects lots of teenagers, particularly in our increasingly digital world. A new teenage novel by Anaïs Sautier, a critically acclaimed young author who also wrote Danse avec les choux and Amour, gloire et ballet published by L'école des loisirs.

THE AUTHOR:

Anaïs Sautier has worked at Emmaüs alongside migrants for many years. She spends her free time going to the movies, reading novels and, of course, writing. She draws inspiration from dance performances, afternoons strolling around Paris, or architectural details.

MARTHE & MASTOK

By Gaël Bordet & Grégory Elbaz

THEME: MYSTERY & DETECTIVE / HUMOR
KEYWORDS: MONSTERS / FANTASY / IMAGINATION / ADVENTURE

Do you believe in monsters? They'd certainly do anything to prove to you that they exist! Even kidnapping Marthe's little brother Lazare? Maybe...

Discover the first book in a series of investigations led by a daring and quick-witted girl called Marthe, and a very old, placid, and wise monster named Mastok. This gently terrifying story takes place in a world where monsters live among us and rebel to make sure we know! Guaranteed goosebumps and giggles!

A novel by Gaël Bordet (the author of Fureur Moustache), an expert in whacky adventures and wonderful discoveries, who also explores essential questions: can you believe in something invisible?

The TILT! series has been well received, with almost 19,500 copies sold.

THE AUTHOR:

Gaël Bordet won the NRP Children's Literature Prize for Le Cas Rubis C. He has been short-listed for several other awards (Grand Prix de l'Imaginaire, etc.). He was one of the winners of Emergences, organized by the 'Charte des Auteurs et Illustrateurs de Jeunesse'.

THE ILLUSTRATOR:

Grégory Elbaz is an eclectic illustrator who was born in 1980. His drawing style is both realistic and dreamlike, and remains sensitive, even when he uses humor. He works in children's publishing, as well as animation, comic books, and kids' illustrations.

MOI, FILS DE STAR

By Agnès Sontag & Agnès Maupré

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY
KEYWORDS: LIES / SINGLE PARENTHOOD / SHYNESS

A photo in a celebrity magazine and a misunderstanding will change Alex's life. But becoming the school's star doesn't come without its perks!

When shy Alex has his photo taken with the famous singer Thelma Edwards, his life at school changes dramatically! Pretending to be the son of a star, he finally dares to speak to Maya, the girl he's in love with, and even promises to introduce her to the singer. But the imposture is harder to maintain than it seems, and one lie often leads to another. Especially as Luca, Maya's ex, is determined to prove that Alex is just a liar. Will Alex be able to tell Maya the truth and remain proud of who he really is? This tender and fair story deals with social precarity, single-parent families, shyness, the desire to shine and the temptation to lie, without being moralistic. A gallery of strong, moving female characters, from the idealistic teenager Maya to Alex's mother, not forgetting, of course, Thelma Edwards, the superstar herself!

THE AUTHOR:

Agnès Sontag has been a comic strip author and illustrator for over twenty years. Trained at the Beaux-Arts of Paris, drawing is her first love. But since 2012, she has also devoted herself to writing! She currently lives in Le Havre.

MON CARNET DE SURVIE EN COLO DE L'EXTRÊME

By Erwan Seznec & Marie de Monti

THEME: HUMOR
KEYWORDS: SUMMER CAMP / SURVIVAL / MOUNTAIN

When Antoine goes to summer camp in the mountains, he is far from imagining that the adventure will turn into an extreme survival course... The unhinged camp counsellor wants them to drink dew and roast field mice!

A survival camp in the mountains... Antoine expects a vacation in the middle of nature, sleeping in a tent, learning how to make a fire and taking part in fun activities. But Rufus, the trainee counsellor in charge of his group, has other ideas... A true survivalist must be able to overcome the dangers of nature and cross the mountain with nothing more than a Swiss Army knife in their pocket (if even). Luckily, Antoine is not alone. There's also Norbert, the violinist who ended up at the wrong camp, Charlotte, a resourceful and sensible girl, and Stéphane, the head counsellor who tries to reason with Rufus. Their mission: to get to the other side of the mountain together without too many disasters!

A crazy comedy in the heart of the mountains with delightfully cartoonish and endearing characters!

LA NAISSANCE DU MONDE

By Bertrand Fichou & Florent Grattery

THEME: HISTORY / NATURE & THE ENVIRONMENT
KEYWORDS: HUMANITY / SCIENCE

A beautiful book in the same spirit as Sapiens, but intended for children ages 8+ and with gorgeous illustrations, for an overview of 14 billion years of history of the world, through 100 fascinating and erudite episodes!

How did the world come to be? How did the stars, the galaxy, and the Earth appear? What do we know about the first moments of life? Did it really come from the sea? What strange species roamed the deserts before the first dinosaurs appeared? How did humans learn how to make fire, invent language and discover love?

Drawing on the most recent scientific discoveries, this book takes us through time, from the formation of the first atoms to the dawn of the first civilizations.

A complex story told in an optimistic and accessible manner for readers aged 7 to 77. The great story of evolution defined by the adventure of life and how it always reinvents itself in a succession of surprises, failed attempts and successful inventions.

Understanding where we come from gives more meaning to life.

NÉ POUR PARTIR

RÉCIT DE MAMADOU, MIGRANT MINEUR DE GUINÉE

By Azouz Begag & Mamadou Sow

THEME: ACTION & ADVENTURE / HISTORY
KEYWORDS: MIGRATION / JOURNEY / BIOGRAPHY

Mamadou Sow left home alone at the age of 15 and completed a grueling 10,000 km journey between Guinea and France. Azouz Begag, a renowned French-Algerian author tells his moving story.

Discover the story of Mamadou Sow, a young Guinean who left his home alone in order to find medicines in France to treat his father, who has cancer.

His journey, like that of many other migrants, was a terrible one. He crossed Guinea, Mali, Algeria and Libya in unacceptable conditions before arriving in France: in a car with nine people, in overcrowded coaches, in old rotting lorries crammed with more than eighty people, on foot in the middle of the desert...

He will come across ransoming bandits, human traffickers, slavers, child soldiers and many traitors, but also a few kind and generous, welcoming and sincere people. Thanks to his courage and tenacity, he manages to bring his story to a positive conclusion.

This four-handed documentary novel, written by an acclaimed author, has given birth to a moving story: a tale of reality, testimony to a significant life journey in the great history of our world. The book is documented by photos and maps.

THE AUTHOR:
 Azouz Begag is a French politician, author, diplomat, and researcher at the CNRS. He taught at the Ecole Centrale de Lyon.

He has published several books with Seuil and Fayard, among others.

 2017 PRIX GULLI

THEME: ROMANCE / FRIENDSHIP / DAILY LIFE AND SOCIETY
KEYWORDS: DISABILITY & SPECIAL NEEDS

Disabled from birth, Vlad and his new friends, all of them crazy about cinema, decide to participate in a short film contest. A story about life, love, and overcoming challenges.

Vlad is the new kid at his middle school. His knees knock together, and his uncoordinated movements make him look like a floppy puppet. Disabled from birth, he loves movies and is funny, sensitive, generous and outspoken. Lou likes him from the moment they meet, and he falls in love with her. But Lou is dating the good-looking Morgan...

Told in alternating points of view, this series is full of poetry and humor, and broaches the themes of difference and disability without making the reader feel guilty about it. At its core, it remains, first and foremost, a beautiful love story about life and adolescence.

A comic strip version published in 2023.

NULLE EN MATHS/NUL EN SPORT

By Nathalie Somers & Océane Meklemberg

THEME: HUMOR / FRIENDSHIP / FAMILY

KEYWORDS: SCHOOL

Nobody's perfect, that's a fact of life. In this hilarious graphic series in the style of Diary of a Wimpy Kid, a duo of endearing characters learns to accept and conquer their weaknesses.

Book 1 – Victoire sucks at math. It goes in one ear and out the other, much to her parents' despair. She can do wonders with a monkey wrench, but nobody cares about that... Plumbing is no job for a girl. But when her parents start talking about boarding school, Victoire panics.

Book 2 – Yacer is the first to admit that he's not good at PE. Not very flexible. Not very agile. Average hand-eye coordination. Which probably explains why he's always picked last for team races. The only problem is, his crush loves PE.

A series chock-full with relatable but hilarious situations and misadventures, and characters whose friendship helps them overcome all kinds of challenges!

THE AUTHOR:

Nathalie Somers writes fantasy, real-life novels, and picture books for children. She has been published by Fleurus, Didier Jeunesse, etc.

When Marion becomes the perfumer of none other than Louis XIV's mistress herself, she uncovers a deadly conspiracy against the queen, and must protect both the kingdom and her own life.

When Marion Dutilleul entered the service of the Marquise de Montespan, she never imagined that her ability to identify scents and blend them into delightful perfumes would win her the favor of Louis XIV's mistress.

Eager to please and hopeful that her talent will win her recognition, Marion creates memorable fragrances, only for the credit to be attributed to somebody else.

And when Marion unwittingly discovers that a terrible plot is being engineered against Queen Marie-Thérèse herself, she must protect both her sovereign and her own life.

A vivid depiction of the Court of Versailles under the Sun King's reign.

PANNE DE CŒUR

By Susie Morgenstern & Clotka

THEME: ROMANCE

KEYWORDS: TEACHING / SCHOOL

This is the story of Audrey, a teacher who dreams of true love in the small village of Grateloup. A love story against a backdrop of illiteracy, full of humor and sensitivity, that celebrates trusting others..

In a village, a young teacher living far away from her family and friends, feels depressed and struggles to teach her 4th grade class. Her house is a mess, just like her... Her students know that she's sad, but don't know how to help her. But then one day, she meets a gruff handyman, Serge, with a big secret:

he doesn't know how to read. So, he does work on Audrey's house, and she teaches him how to read. They fall in love. Audrey rediscovers a taste for life and her love of teaching. And just like in a fairy tale, all ends well with a beautiful wedding which, of course, her 4th graders are all invited to...

THE AUTHOR:

Susie Morgenstern grew up in the USA. She lives in Nice, where she teaches IT English at the Faculté des Sciences. From picture books to novels, she hasn't stopped writing since 1979. Portrait au couteau

By Malika Ferdjouxh

THEME: MYSTERY & DETECTIVE / FANTASY / ROMANCE
KEYWORDS: PAINTING / DEATH

Two women, born 100 years apart, are connected by a mystery. Why does one of them have a scar that looks like the other's stab wounds? An unsettling investigation in the Parisian world of fine arts.

Winter 1910. Marie Legay poses for Odilon Voret, a dark and sinister painter. As she leaves his studio, she is stabbed to death five times.

Spring 2010. Antonin Vertov, a young art student, meets a young model, Flavie, who has a scar in the shape of a bird on her chest... A few days later, they meet again at the Musée d'Orsay in front of a painting by Odilon Voret. The painting, entitled "The Torn Heart", shows a young woman being murdered... and the stab wounds are exactly the same shape as Flavie's scar. Antonin and Flavie decide to investigate. They get swept up in a whirlwind of strange and disturbing events, full of false leads and twists and turns... Including a paintbrush painting by itself, letters written in blood, and a usurpation that holds the key to the mystery!

THE AUTHOR:

Malika Ferdjouxh was born in 1957 in Algeria. She writes novels for children, such as the Quatre Sœurs series and Broadway Limited, published by L'École des loisirs. She also writes for film and TV.

RÊVES AMERS

By Maryse Condé

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY
KEYWORDS: HAITI / SLAVERY / POVERTY

Rose-Aimée's family lives happily in a small but poor Haitian village. At 13, she goes to seek a job, only to become little more than a slave. She and Lisa, another maid, find solace in each other, but can they find freedom?

A love song to Haiti, a moving story, and a hard look at inequality and fraternity.

Rose-Aimée lives happily with her family in her village in Haiti.

But at 13, she realizes that her parents can't feed her anymore. Rose-Aimée has no choice: she must depart for the capital and take her future in her own hands. Her hopes of going to school and seeing the sights are quickly dashed upon reaching her destination, when she's hired as a maid by a tyrannical woman who, little by little, makes her little more than a slave.

Trapped in a hopeless situation, Rose-Aimée finds solace in the friendship of Lisa, another servant girl. Together, they seek their freedom. But can they ever find it?

A poignant portrayal of life in Haiti under Jean-Claude Duvalier's presidency, depicting the harsh reality of inequalities, violence and corruption generated by misery and political unrest, but also child labor and emigration.

RECOMMENDED BY THE FRENCH MINISTRY OF NATIONAL EDUCATION.

LE ROI DU JAZZ

By Alain Gerber

THEME: HISTORY / FRIENDSHIP
KEYWORDS: MUSIC / SOCIAL ISSUES

In early-20th-century New Orleans, two young boys, one black, one white, share a dream to become jazz musicians. A beautiful novel of friendship and music that portrays the injustice reigning in post-slavery America.

New Orleans in the early 20th century. Leon and Noel are best friends. Despite their differences—one is black, the other white, one goes to school, the other doesn't, and one is poorer than the other—they share the same dream... To buy the horn proudly displayed in the music shop's window and become jazz musicians. When Noel is given the horn as a birthday present, he immediately passes it on to Leon, who quickly learns how to play.

But when Leon is accused of theft, he thinks that his best friend betrayed him. They part ways on a misunderstanding...

A unique children's novel by a renowned jazz specialist who has been awarded several literary prizes for his adult novels. Alain Gerber's passion for jazz music shines through the text and is clear to see even for the youngest readers.

The book's subject matter is inspired by the eventful life of the greatest trumpeter of all times, Louis Armstrong.

THE AUTHOR:
Alain Gerber is a renowned jazz specialist and reinvented the lives of the greatest jazz musicians, from Louis to Miles, from Chet to Lady Day. He was awarded the "Grand Prix du Roman de la Ville de Paris" for his work.

LES ROSES DE TRIANON | SERIES

By Annie Jay

THEME: HISTORY / ACTION & ADVENTURE

KEYWORDS: ROYALTY / MYSTERY

It's no fun for debutante Roselys to switch her sword and breeches for an ornate dress, but the Court and its plots may just turn out far more exciting than she thought.

Roselys d'Angemont makes for a most uncommon noble lady: she grew up by the countryside, learning to climb trees, ride and fence. Alas! Her parents decide it's time she led a young lady's life. No more men's clothes and escapades.

In Paris, Roselys earns a position as the Queen's attendant, but life at Court is more complicated than it seems. The powerful scheme and intrigue, and when Roselys finds out about the existence of a secret society dedicated to bringing justice to the people, she won't stop until she's joined their ranks. Even if her contact there is none other than the taciturn Étienne de Valsens, a gentleman far too disagreeable for her taste.

LE TEMPS DES MIRACLES

By Anne-Laure Bondoux

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY / FAMILY

KEYWORDS: WAR / IMMIGRATION / COMING-OF-AGE

Trapped in a war-torn country, a young woman embarks on a desperate journey to France, accompanied by a child she rescued from a trainwreck. A poignant tale of family and the quest for freedom and peace.

"When the customs officers found me, hiding in the back of a truck at the French border, I was twelve years old and all alone. I repeated "mynameis-blèzfortunéiamafrenchcitizenit'sthet-ruth" over and over again. I didn't know that my passport was fake, and apart from those few words, I could only speak Russian. I couldn't explain how I had come from Caucasia to here, the land of human rights and Charles Baudelaire.

And I had lost Gloria. Gloria Bohème, who had looked after me ever since my mother's death. I was free with her, despite the war, despite the borders, despite poverty and fear. I missed her terribly, but I held onto the hope that one day I would find this kind-hearted woman who brightened my life again."

A touching novel for its humanity, vitality and darkness, mixed with tenderness. Intense from beginning to end, it resonates with today's world.

LE TEMPS FRUIT

By Nathalie Wyss

THEME: FRIENDSHIP / DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY
KEYWORDS: LONELINESS / SHARING / BOOKS

In a small mountain village, untouched by time, an old bookseller and a young girl overcome their loneliness and grief together. A moving story of friendship between two unique people.

Solange is 12 years old. When she sees a job advertised by Alec, the bookseller, she decides to apply. The task is simple: read to him while he works in the shop.

Alec has lived alone with his books since his true love died many years ago. His bookshop is open every day and night.

Solange also lives alone, since her parents' accident. Even though everyone in the village pretends to believe in the grandmother she made up to be left alone. The young girl survives by exchanging jars of capers, from the now closed family cannery, against other products for her and the village cats, who she takes care of. She often stops in front of Alec's shop window full of books.

Little by little, they get to know, understand and appreciate each other. A unique and precious friendship forms that enables them to free themselves from the ghosts of the past.

THE AUTHOR:
Nathalie Wyss began writing ten years ago and hasn't stopped since. She became a bookseller to never be short of books, and is the author of several novels for children. She lives in Switzerland, in Poliez-Pittet (1041).

TERREUR SUR LE LAC

By Sandrine Beau

THEME: MYSTERY & DETECTIVE,
KEYWORDS: HORROR / BULLYING / HUT / MALIGNANCY

Linus, 12, is the scapegoat of his classmates. To escape his bleak daily life, he takes refuge in an abandoned cabin near the lake. But one day, three men have taken possession of the premises.

For twelve-year-old Linus, life is hell. Not a very bright pupil, shy and slightly overweight, he is the victim of his classmates' bullying, led by Sixtine, the richest girl in the school. Until the day when Linus flees for the lake and its abandoned cabin, which has become his hide-out. But when Linus arrives, he's not the only one there. Three men are already on the premises, intent on carrying out a machiavellian plan. And there's no way they're going to let a kid ruin everything.

This is the new thriller from Sandrine Beau, an author already well-versed in crime fiction (Toute seule dans la nuit: Prix Traquées, Prix Margot).

Her breathless story is diabolically well-written, giving us the opportunity to follow the point of view of several characters, including the antagonists, and finely pointing out that everything is never black or white.

THE AUTHOR:
Sandrine Beau wrote many stories for Milan Presse and Bayard Presse. Her children's books have been published by Oskar Editions, L'Élan vert and Grasset Jeunesse. Le Petit Chaperon qui n'était pas rouge is her first picture book.

TU COURS TROP VITE

By Thibault Bérard

THEME: ROMANCE / FRIENDSHIP

KEYWORDS: JEALOUSY / BOYS AND GIRLS / SECONDARY SCHOOL

Rudy hates the new, stuck-up Parisian girl, who's also a remarkable cross-country runner and dating his best friend, Damien.

The tragic story of a farmer's son, jealous of a girl to whom everything seems to come easily.

Rudy comes from a family of farmers and lives in a village in Provence, surrounded by hills. He's not very good at school, but his classmates respect him because he's tall, can drive a tractor and doesn't hesitate to use force when necessary. His best friend Damien is the opposite: bright, kind and generous.

When Damien falls in love with Lena, Rudy's world falls apart. Lena is everything he's not, and life seems easy for her. She wins the poetry contest, aces the school cross-country race, which Rudy has won every year since kindergarten... And now, he's ready to fight back.

THE AUTHOR:

Thibault Bérard was born in Paris in 1980. He studied literature and became a journalist and then an editor. After heading up a Parisian publishing house's fiction list for fifteen years, he recently decided to devote himself entirely to writing from his new home in the Alps.

UN TUEUR À MA PORTE

By Irina Drozd

THEME: MYSTERY & DETECTIVE / ACTION & ADVENTURE / FRIENDSHIP

KEYWORDS: MURDER

Daniel witnesses a murder. The thing is, he was blinded in a ski accident, so he couldn't see the murderer. They, on the other hand, saw him just fine. And they have no plans to leave behind any witnesses.

Blinded during a ski trip, Daniel is recovering at home when he's startled awake by a scream and groaning in the streets below. Did someone get hurt? Daniel hurries over to the window and sees absolutely nothing! The murderer, on the other hand, saw him just fine. And they certainly don't plan on leaving any witnesses behind...

Trapped in a terrifying chase by an enemy he can't see, Daniel must activate all his senses and rely on the strength of friendship to survive.

A thrilling detective novel which does not focus on violence, but rather on emotions and suspense through alternating points of view.

DES VACANCES BIEN POURRIES (OU MA THÉORIE SUR LES DOMINOS)

By Séverine Vidal & Oriol Vidal

THEME: HUMOR / FRIENDSHIP,
KEYWORDS: FEELINGS / COMING-OF-AGE

What started off as the worst summer ever leads Nils to the friendship of a lifetime. Because even a series of seemingly never-ending disasters can result in a positive outcome once you come out the other side.

Why is this his life? Nils was supposed to spend the summer at surf camp, but instead he'll be stuck at his Aunt Bou's house, in the middle of Nowhere, France. Nils is sure of it: this is going to be a disaster.

A sometimes moving and often funny story in which a series of apparent catastrophes and coincidences come together to make what should have been the worst summer of Nils' life into an unexpected adventure. Because sometimes, it's only in retrospect that you realize that the little things held a huge meaning all along.

A light-hearted yet deep novel, enhanced by world-famous illustrator Oriol Vidal's subtle art.

THE AUTHOR:
Séverine Vidal writes teen novels, comic books, picture books and texts for the press. Her books have been translated into several languages and awarded multiple prizes. She also runs writing workshops for all ages.

ZORAGE

By Manon Fargetton & Maud Begon

THEME: FANTASY / ACTION & ADVENTURE / HUMOR
KEYWORDS: FAIRIES / MODERNITY/NATURE / IMAGINATION

The town fairies and forest fairies are gradually disappearing! When Zorage, the rebellious fairy, notices that her hands are becoming transparent, she is determined to find out where this curse is coming from.

Zorage is a courageous heroine, at the heart of a story that celebrates self-confidence, respect for nature, and the power of imagination. When her friends seem to disappear, she asks questions, thinks, gets impatient... until she discovers the unthinkable! A determined heroine in a fascinating universe thanks to her energy and powers of persuasion, Zorage the rebel will give her fairy community new courage. We follow her as she investigates, from her low house to the library of suspended thoughts, from her confrontations with the Spirit-who-knew-everything to her encounters with humans.

A fascinating universe unfolds, between the marvellous and the modern, populated by a gallery of astonishing fairies. Valuable messages are spread throughout this richly illustrated short novel. The author is loved by readers : Les Plieurs de temps (21,000 copies sold). The illustrator's last comic book, Le jardin secret (Dargaud), was a great success (Book 1: 8,600 copies). ■

LE CONTRAT DORIAN GRAY

By Mélanie de Coster

THEME: SCIENCE-FICTION / ROMANCE
KEYWORDS: TOTALITARIAN SOCIETY

Imagine you could look like you were 20 for the rest of your life! No physical changes, perfect health... But at what cost? A breathtaking novel that combines adventure, science-fiction and philosophy.

Morane is 17 years old. She lives in a totalitarian society where, at the age of 20, everyone signs the Dorian Gray contract and stops ageing until they turn 70. Then, they age instantly and die a few minutes later.

Morane lives in an isolated house by the sea with her father, who's trying to protect her from a dark secret. One evening, between distrust and generosity, they take in a young girl in distress. Then everything goes wrong. The house is attacked. The girl is badly hurt and Morane's father disappears. The two teenagers set off to look for him in a world that has gone mad.

An adventure novel based on an age-old and current existential question: the cycle of life vs the temptation of eternal youth. ■

THE AUTHOR:

Mélanie de Coster was born in 1977 in Belgium. She started writing her first novel at the age of 11, won her first writing competition at the age of 16, and has never stopped since. Mélanie De Coster moved to France when she was 18 years old. She studied, worked, fell in love... and never left. She has written tales for children, several novels for adults, and more recently, books for teens. She still has lots of stories to tell!

DE NOS PROPRES AILES

By Kinga Wyrzykowska

THEME: MYSTERY & DETECTIVE / FRIENDSHIP

KEYWORDS: SPORTS / COMING-OF-AGE

When one of their own is injured right before the championship, the girls from the volleyball team raise some funds to help her attend the finals anyway. But tensions arise when the money goes missing. A coming-of-age thriller.

The Saint-Éxupéry high school volleyball team's dreams have just come true... After five years of grueling practice, the girls have won the French Heaven Cup and qualified for the international finals! There are six of them, six inseparable friends... and Gladys, who just joined the team as a sub, and struggles to fit in. When Tina is injured and Gladys set to take her place on the trip, the other girls decide to pool some money together so that Tina can come along too, injured or not. But money tends to bring out the worst in people. Some girls contribute too much, others not enough... Until it all comes to a head when the money goes missing... Who took it, and why?

Through multiple points of view, the novel gives a voice to each of the main characters, and accurately portrays the violence of feelings during adolescence.

UN ÉTÉ EN LIBERTÉ

By Mélanie Edwards

THEME: ROMANCE / DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY

KEYWORDS: COMING-OF-AGE / SIBLINGS

When their distant parents send her and her siblings to the country for the summer, Violette, 14, discovers freedom. There, in this tiny haven ensconced deep in the countryside, her life is turned upside-down when she meets Bosco.

1989. This summer, just like every other year, Violette's parents are too broke and too busy to take their four children on vacation. So she and her siblings, Brune, 17, Paul, 16, and Elise, 6, have no choice but to spend the summer by themselves in their mother's hometown. It's a tiny, tiny place, lost in the middle of nowhere. But there, far from their harried mother and unstable father, the four children discover freedom again... and Violette, for her part, discovers something entirely new when she meets, Bosco, a boy her age who rides his moped along the sunny paths...

A beautiful summer coming-of-age novel permeated with sunlight and the quiet chirping of birds and crickets, featuring the excitement of first love, the conflictual relationship between parent and child, and the deep bond shared by the siblings.

MARCHE TA PEINE

By Maryvonne Rippert

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY

KEYWORDS: BULLYING / TRAVELLING / FORGIVENESS

To avoid spending time in a juvenile detention center, Ulis sets off on an intense two-month-long hike with a social worker. Just what he needs to take a step back and think about his actions...

To make a new start, Ulis signs up to the "Walk your sentence" program: a two-month hike through France, with André, a gruff and quiet man, who stood in for the original social worker at the last minute. Two months for the boy to think about what he did to Noah. Little by little, step by step, Ulis fills in the diary the judge asked him to keep. He goes through the past and his memories, the insults and humiliations that drove Noah to suicide. Ulis also gets to know André, a mysterious man, who introduces him to people from his past who share the same secret. Could André and his friends' secret help Ulis see his own past differently? Could this journey help him move on?

A road trip full of suspense, with two profound characters who, each in their own way, carry the heavy burden of a secret on their shoulders...

THE AUTHOR:

After several years in Paris working for a major weekly newspaper, Maryvonne Rippert moved to Lyon and focused on writing children's books and crime novels. Difference, learning to be free and separation are themes that are close to her heart.

PÈPPO

By Séverine Vidal

THEME: DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY / FAMILY
KEYWORDS: FEELINGS / COMING-OF-AGE

When his older sister runs away from the family caravan, Pèppo must look after his twin nephews. He can hardly take care of himself, but as he takes on raising a pair of toddlers, Pèppo might well find more than he expected.

Pèppo's life is a bit complicated. He lives in a caravan with his sister and one-year-old twin nephews, and when he's not at the beach, he's helping his uncle run his shabby campsite.

But his life is turned upside-down when one morning, Pèppo finds a note from his sister saying that she ran away, leaving her children behind. He's in high school and can barely take care of himself, but Pèppo must now face what may well be the biggest challenge of his life: raising a pair of toddlers. As if it wasn't enough, he's suddenly confronted with another huge change when he meets the mysterious Marie-Lola, who intrigues him more and more every day. Maybe his sister running away isn't such a bad thing, after all...

A beautiful coming-of-age novel featuring funny and endearing characters.

UN PEU PLUS PRÈS DES ÉTOILES

By Rachel Corenblit

THEME: ROMANCE / DAILY LIFE & SOCIETY / FRIENDSHIP
KEYWORDS: COMING-OF-AGE

A teen who was worn down by life and gave up on friendship as a result learns to open up when his father starts work at a hospital for reconstructive surgery. There, he finds the love and friendships of a lifetime.

Over the past ten years, Rémi moved nineteen times. Tired of losing friends, haunted by the chilling fear that he inherited his mother's illness, he doesn't even try to fit in at his new schools anymore, instead choosing to listen to the tapes his late mother left him—listening to her voice and favorite songs day in, day out. He's only 15, but Rémi's already worn down by life.

But his world is turned upside-down when his father starts working at a hospital which specializes in reconstructive surgery, and he meets seven disfigured teens. Among them is Sara, a girl whose face is severely scarred, and whose eyes burn with pride. Against all odds, he gets to know them all, and, ever so slowly, Rémi the loner finds that he doesn't want their world to go on without him...

An emotionally-packed novel about a teen who learns to open up to others, and to overcome his fears so as to look beyond the surface and see things for what they truly are.

ANNE-LAURE BONDOUX

ANNE-LAURE BONDOUX is a great French children’s author. She has published around fifteen novels for teenagers and adults. She was chosen to represent children’s literature at the 2017 Frankfurt Book Fair, when France was the guest of honour. Her novels have been translated into over twenty languages and have won numerous awards in France and abroad. Meet and greets enable her to put her novels into perspective with the times, and question her relationship with readers. She believes that literature should transcend reality, serve to explore otherness and convey a message that will remain relevant years later. Her challenge—to continue questioning herself and the world ten, twenty years later...

MURIELLE SZAC

MURIELLE SZAC, an author and journalist, was also editor-in-chief of the magazines Popi, Tralalire and Belles Histoires.

She has written over twenty books and enjoys meeting her readers in their classrooms. She regularly organizes workshops around Les Feuilletons mythologie and is therefore familiar with the school environment and the world of childhood. She loves stories that encourage readers to dream, but also those that make you cry, think or feel angry. In other words, stories that explore essential themes and make you want to change the world.

Her strong, endearing and complex characters embark young and old readers alike on a fabulous adventure into Greek mythology.

By Thierry Colombié

THEME: MYSTERY & DETECTIVE / NATURE & THE ENVIRONMENT

KEYWORDS: ECOLOGY / MURDER

When her boyfriend's fish-trafficking family land her brother, a fervent environmental activist, into a coma, Klervi, 17, learns the harsh reality of the fight between those who defend nature and those who seek to profit from it.

Klervi lives in Brittany and is madly in love with Lucas. His family traffics an endangered species of baby eels, which sell on the black market. Klervi also has a twin brother, but they've drifted apart ever since he became obsessed with protecting the environment. But when Klervi finds him covered in toxic green algae that plunge him into a coma, she discovers that one of Lucas' family's employees is to blame. And she could also get 7 years in jail for her indirect involvement. There's only one solution... To work for the police and spy on Lucas' family.

THE AUTHOR:

Thierry Colombié is an expert in organized crime. He is a documentary maker, screenwriter and author of novels and essays, such as the acclaimed Stars et truands (Fayard).
